Lindbergh Being Feted In Paris—May Fly To Brussels.

Youth Also Considering Trip To England To Visit King.

By HARRY R. FLORY
International News Service Staff Correspondent

FIRST PAGE

PARIS, May 24—Social engagements claimed Captain Charles A. Lindbergh today, when that youth gave unmistakeable indications that he would have preferred to have gone to Le Boudget Field to work on the airplane which brought him across the Atlantic Ocean in a solo flight.

Lindbergh is going through with numerous engagements because he realizes that it is incumbent upon him to accept the courtesies offered him, but he makes no pretense of hiding the fact that he is an airman and feels that he should be back at the field getting ready to take the air.

Minor repairs needed on "The Spirit of St. Louis" are being made and if Lindbergh has his own way he will probably be in the air again

Company B Is Mustered Into Service Monday

Official Ceremonies Take Place At Armory Last Night.

OUTFIT GOING TO CAMP IN AUGUST

Over 50 Men Sworn Into Service Last Night—More To Join.

Company B, 125th Engineers, this city's latest military unit, is now a part of the state and federal service, as the result of the mustering in last night of fifty men by representatives of the state and federal military departments.

The muster was conducted at the armory on Neshannock avenue and in the presence of quite a number of interested citizens of New Castle. Major William Fish of the 28th Division Headquarters at Philadelphia, was the mustering officer for the state and First Lieutenant Leonard E. Lilley, 112th Infantry Instructor at Regimental Headquarters, Grove City, for the federal government.

The officers of the new outfit are Captain William R. Walter, officer in command and First Lieutenant Paul W. Keely. A second lieutenant will be appointed in the near future.

To Go To Mt. Gretna

The unit will be ready for the annual state encampment, which will be held at Mt. Gretna and is for training purposes. The local company will go to camp August 9-22.

The company has already occupied its new armory quarters in the former Gardens building on Neshannock avenue, where ample room will be afforded for all the activities of the organization. The company has the Gardens under lease for a period of years.

Owing to the fact that the company for some time past has been holding weekly drills in spite of the fact that it was not yet mustered in, it will be ready for the annual encampment at Mt. Gretna and is expected to make a fine showing for an organization that has been in existence for so short a time.

People Of Portugal Are Greatly Disappointed Over Flier's Failure.

LONDON, May 24.—Advice to Lloyds Marine Agency this morning indicated that Commander De Pinedo the Italian Trans-Atlantic flier, has been forced down off the Azores.

A dispatch from the Liner Aquitania said that a schooner was towing an unidentified airplane into an Azores port, but it was not positively identified as De Pinedo's.

The radiogram from the Aquitania to Lloyds follows:

"The steamship oil field reporting her position as latitude 41.6 longitude 33.39 signalled that she had sighted a three masted schooner towing an airplane eastward.

"The steamship hailed the schooner but, owing to darkness, could not get any details. The steamship continued on her course. The plane is believed to have been a double motor monoplane with three propellers.

The location reported by the Aquitania would be a few miles northwest of the Azores where De Pinedo was last reported seen.

TWO MEN HURT; STRUCK BY AUTO

Accident Occurs On East Washington Street At Temple Avenue

Two men were injured Monday afternoon, when the automobile of P. L. Stack of 431 Boyles avenue became unmanageable as the owner was driving it south on Washington street at Temple avenue, and ran into the men, one a city employe, who were at the left hand curb.

The injured men are Albert Martin, 817 Butler avenue, a city employe, and Thomas Holliday, 1708 East Washington street, who was standing at the curb talking to Martin. Martin was able to go home but Holliday was taken to the New Castle hospital for treatment ot a severe cut sustained.

The city had a gang of men making repairs to the street at this point. Stack turned to the left to avoid a pile of bricks and his steering wheel stuck, with the result that he ran into the men.

Inquiry this afternoon at the New Castle hospital indicated that Mr. Holliday, who is nearly seventy years of age, is in a more serious condition than at first reported. X-ray pictures have been taken to determine whether or not his skull has been fractured, he having been struck on the forehead. His shoulder and hip are also badly injured.

The Stack truck after hitting Mr. Holliday and Albert Martin, went up over the curb into the lawn of a property at that point before being stopped.

"I Am Still A Member Of The United States Aerial Mail Service" Says "Lucky."

By FREDERICK K. ABBOTT
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PARIS, May 24.—Hero or no hero, Captain Charles A. Lindbergh still considers himself a flying post-man.

Receiving correspondents today at the American embassy Lindbergh was quick to stress the fact that he was still in the aerial mail service of the United States.

"Will you return to the mail service," Lindbergh was asked.

"Why," gasped the youth, "I have never left it."

It was a new Lindbergh that the correspondents met today, for new clothes had taken the place of the borrowed togs he has worn since he arrived here. He stood ill at ease on the grand staircase of the embassy and submitted to inteFviewers and photographers, obviously somewhat embarrassed as comments were made on his "natty attire." For he was garbed in a double-breasted blue suit, tan shoes, a white shirt and collar and a blue necktie with diagonal yellow stripes.

Asked what he thought of the newspaper comment on his performance, Lindbergh said he wasn't able to comment because he hadn't had time to read the columns that have been written in praise of his feat.

The grin of joy came over his face when he announced that tomorrow early he will be at Le Bourget.

"I want to get to work on my machine," he said.

Premier Baldwin Announces Stand Of Great Britain

Says Nation To Formally Sever Diplomatic Relations With Russia.

LONG INVESTIGATION CAUSE OF ACTION

Work Of Soviet Agents In England Direct Cause Of Drastic Move.

By H. K. REYNOLDS,
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, May 24.—Great Britain has decided to sever diplomatic relations with Soviet Russia and to terminate the Anglo-Russian trade agreement, it was officially announced by Premier Baldwin in the House of Commons this afternoon.

The Premier's announcement was made during a statement upon the recent police raids on the headquarters of the Soviet trade delegation and Arcos, Ltd., the private Russian trading organization in London.

These raids revealed that Arcos and the trade delegation have been habitually used as a clearing house for subversive correspondence, the premier stated.

Long Investigation

The police and military, in collaboration, have been investigating for many months the activities of "armed agents," seeking to obtain confidential documents relating to the British armed forces, Baldwin stated. Inquiry showed that these agents were working on behalf of the Soviet government, the premier continued.

Evidence has been uncovered that one stolen document was reproduced by a photostatic process in the Soviet house, the premier said. A British subject employed in the air force has been convicted of stealing two military documents. This British subject was imprisoned after the stolen papers had been recovered from him.

"Evidence is in the hands of the authorities," said Baldwin, "which proves that both military espionage and subversive activities throughout Great Britain, North and South America, were directed and carried out from Soviet house."

They parleyed and they kowtowed with a lot of savior faire, but we didn't win the Frenchmen till Slim Charley took the air. Now he only speaks one language and he's rather shy in that, and he never had a hardboiled shirt, and shys away from spats. But when Lucky flew to Paris and created a furore, Uncle Sammy knew he'd landed with a new ambassador. He's a diplomat of friendship, an ambassador of pluck, and he won the hearts of Frenchmen with some help from Lady Luck, and the French are wild about him, though he cannot parley voo, they can understand his courage, weather's damp and several two.

Flood Spreads Over Last Area

Battle To Save Section Of Louisiana Is Failure Reports Indicate.

NEW EXODUS OF REFUGEES STARTS

(International News Service)

BATON ROUGE, La., May 24.—The five day fight to save Pointe Coupee Parish, the last remaining dry section of west-central Louisiana, from the Atchafalaya basin flood waters was abandoned today when a third cave-in along 700 feet of the east bank levee at McCrea drove the 1,500 defenders from their footing.

The first collapse of the McCrea levee occurred early Saturday morning, when 125 feet of the protecting wall sloughed off the Atchafalaya torrent. Another section of 90 feet went in Sunday.

The McCrea crevasse is the first in the east bank of the river.

For more than 48 hours following the Sunday break a desperate effort was made to hold the river in check with sand bags. More than a million bags and hundreds of car loads of dirt were dumped into the back-levee waters in an attempt to rear a new retaining wall.

Reports to State Relief Director John M. Parker at noon said that the levee crew escaped with their lives by racing through water knee deep to the highway some two miles to the south.

A rescue fleet of four coast guard vessels and twenty-five flat bottom outboard motor skiffs was standing by when the weary levee gang gave up the ghost.

As soon as the piling on of sand bags halted, the waters had their way in Pointe Coupee parish and began to race over the 600 square miles of sunken island which had been successful until today in keeping its head above water.

Pointe Coupee has a normal population of approximately 25,000 but virtually the entire western edge of the parish has been evacuated since last Thursday, when a critical condition developed at McCrea. The remainder of the parish, along the Mississippi river is prepared for the Atchafalaya waters. The exodus from the eastern edge of the parish began this morning, although the McCrea crevasse will not flood over the twenty mile stretch to the Mississippi levees for 36 or 48 hours.

MANY HONORS BEING HEAPED UPON YOUNG AMERICAN AVIATOR

by Thursday or Friday, flying over Paris to "really see the town."

May Fly to Brussels

On Saturday he would like to fly to Brussels to accept an invitation from King Albert to be received at the Royal Palace there and from Brussels he would like to fly to England where a great reception is awaiting him, and where King George desires to greet him. Although he is reticent, it is plain that he is rather intrigued by these royal invitations, being rather curious to see just what a king is like.

Up to the present Lindbergh has paid little or no attention to the countless commercial offers which have flooded him, observing that he didn't fly across the ocean to make money but to "advance the cause of aviation," and he leaves the very definite impression that if he feels he has done something for aviation he is quite satisfied and won't worry about what he may get out of the venture personally.

Many Offers

The offers and invitations that have come to Lindbergh have been so numerous that proposals have been made that a board of managers be appointed for him to aid him in a business way. It has been suggested that three prominent and disinterested American residents of Paris be named to act as an advisory board to Lindbergh, and it may be that the young man will accept this proposal. He has leaned heavily on Ambassador Herrick up to the present for advice, as he realizes that his position is something like that of an Ambassador and he wants to do those things that are expected of him and so he has very wisely chosen a trained Ambassador to guide him.

But Lindbergh gets his greatest enjoyment out of talking over his flight with those who know aviation, and he was probably at his best yesterday when Alan Cobham, the great English aviator, sat and chatted with him for a considerable time regarding things aerial and the possibilities of regular trans-Atlantic flights.

Sees Future Advances

Lindbergh is staunch in his belief that trans-Atlantic aerial services can be maintained, but he frankly admits that as a commercial proposition flights such as his are not to be considered as yet. He feels that heavier planes, probably tri-motored planes, must be developed capable of making the flight, before it can be regarded as a commercial project. He also has ideas about more certain weather reports. It will be something of a disappointment to Lindbergh if Commander Byrd does not attempt the New York-Paris flight, as he is rather anxious to watch the performance of this tri-motored heavy plane.

At noon today the American hero of the hour was the guest of the American Club at a luncheon at the Hotel Des Ambassadeurs and it hardly seems possible that he will be able to escape making a speech, an ordeal which he frankly dreads, as he declares he is not a speech-maker by trade.

Late this afternoon the American is going to Le Bourget field to bid farewell to two French fliers who are hopping off in an attempt to make a two-jump flight from Paris to Tokio.

Tonight Ambassador Herrick is giving a dinner for the young flier and Lindbergh is looking forward to tomorrow when he will have lunch with Bleriot, the first man ever to fly across the English Channel, a man whom Lindbergh regards as a great pioneer.

Tomorrow afternoon Lindbergh will be a guest of the Chamber of Deputies. On Thursday he will receive an official welcome from the city of Paris and will be entertained at luncheon by Foreign Minister Briand.

All these receptions and luncheons and dinners don't mean much to Lindbergh, who drinks not at all and eats sparingly, for he is anxious to get back to his own world of motors, planes, gasoline and oil.

Awarding Contracts To Out-Of-Town Concerns Is Bringing Protests

Feeling that the interests of New Castle workmen and contractors are being overlooked in the letting of recent large building contracts here, in which out of town contractors have been successful in securing the contracts and that thousands of dollars will be taken from the city that might just as well have been spent here, contractors and union building trade organizations of the city are planning a joint meeting in the near future for the consideration of the matter.

It is probable, according to those interested in the movement, that a protest of rather powerful character will be registered with the Chamber of Commerce and the business interests of the city against such a practice, and the claim be made that local contractors and workmen should be favored, when the costs are anyway near the figures of the out of town contractor.

It is the contention that the money being spent on these buildings is made here and it should be spent here. In the letting of contracts to out of town concerns, it is contended not only the contractors profit, but the major part of the wages paid out go to the benefit of other communities, when it should remain here.

The agitation against the letting of contracts to out of town concerns is gaining impetus and is expected to result in some definite action to benefit the city and its workmen.

down at sea and his seaplane is being towed by a schooner, according to a message received here today from the S. S. Providence.

The Providence reported that De Pinedo's seaplane in tow was sighted 240 miles from Flores, the Azores.

Lloyd's register gives three steamers named Providence, one of these is an American coastal steamer, another is of French registry and the third is of Norwegian registry.

Disappointment Felt

PORTUGAL, May 24.— Nation wide disappointment was felt throughout Portugal today over the apparent failure of Commander Francesco De Pinedo to hop over the Atlantic Ocean in a non-stop flight to the Azores.

It had been reported that a schooner was towing an airplane believed to be De Pineo's into port at Horta, Azores Islands, but no confirmation of this report had been received up to the time this dispatch was written.

The Italian Le-589, at Horta sent word that a large crowd spent the entire night upon the harbor front waiting for De Pinedo, hoping that he might fly into the city. Flares were lighted upon the water front to guide the Italian airman if he was still aloft.

MAKE PLANS FOR RECONSTRUCTION

Coolidge to supervise in behalf of the Federal government.

Approximately 85 percent of the $400,000,000 flood damage in the entire Mississippi Valley is in the states represented at the conference.

After whipping the central organization of the reconstruction machinery into shape, Secretary Hoover received Red Cross reports from the southern portion of Louisiana, where the flood waters of the Atchafalaya still are rolling over thickly populated territory to the gulf. The southern edge of the flood had reached into St. Marys parish this morning, according to reports to army engineers.

Levee Gives Way

NEW ORLEANS, May 24.—The Atchafalaya levee at McCrea, on the east bank of that swollen stream, gave way shortly before dawn today. In a few hours there was a crevasse 750 feet wide, and the whole eastern section of the "Sugar Bowl" will be flooded.

The west bank levees of the Mississippi now are threatened as result of the McCrea break.

MAKE DECISION ON COMPLAINTS

P. R. R. and the city agreed to install a flash light signal the commission feels that this protection will be adequate following the complaint by the city against the B. & O. and the P. & L. E. for the furnace street crossing these roads agreed to place watchmen at the crossing this method of protection was found by the commission to be reasonable.

The city also agreed with the Pennsylvania for the installation of a flash light signal at its crossing at Furnace street. There the crossing consists of a main track and four yard tracks. Protection of the siding tracks by a flashlight signal would be impossible because of the number of switching movements the commissions order said. Protection of the main track by a signal would be inadequate.

The safety of the public requires the service of a watchman and the P. R. R. has been ordered to follow the example of the other two carriers.

SOFT COAL MINERS AND OPERATORS IN WAGE CONFERENCE

called for, pointing out that non-union mines in the central district pay $4 and $5 a day for the same work paid for at the rate of $7.50 a day under the contract. The miners' representatives will oppose any lowering of the wage scale.

The entire situation is loaded with "dynamite" for behind the controversy over the wage pact which is bound to be hotly contested is the growing tension between the anthracite miners and operators over the failure of the anthracite conciliation board to effect an agreement on the "check-off."

Despite the fact that both sides, apparently are entering the conference with a sincere desire to adjust the wage contract amicably, lurks the possibility that if the conference is fruitless the splitup will inflame the bitter feeling now arising in the anthracite fields over the much disputed "check off" and various district disputes. Failure of the conferees to agree then possibly may be construed as voiding the apthracite agreement reached last year.

Sir Thomas Lipton is an English tea merchant and sportsman. In what particular sport is Sir Thomas Lipton especially famous?

Today marks the anniversary of the opening of a great bridge at New York City in 1883. Six days after the opening 12 persons were trampled to death and scores injured in a panic on it. Can you name the bridge?

Can you give the first and last names of George Washington's wife before he married her?

Two famous and dangerous straights lie between the coast of Denmark and those of Norway and Sweden. Can you name them?

Two groups of islands, British owned, lie to the north of Scotland in the Atlantic ocean. Both groups are well known. What are their names?

"God hath made man upright; but they have sought out many inventions." Where does this passage occur in the Bible?

Today's Horoscope

Both men and women, born under this sign, are inclined to be capricious. They should guard against it as it is always a barrier to happy married life.

Snappy Saying

Rookie: You ain't got nothin' on me. I had twelve hundred people under me last summer.

Sergeant, doubtfully: What were you doing?

Rookie: I mowed the grass in a cemetery.

Add 'Em Up!

The driver of the auto skidded around the corner, wobbled down the street, and then turned to the left just in time to avoid hitting another car.

"You fooled about 10 people that time", one of the passengers quavered.

"What do you mean, 10 people?" demanded the driver.

"Five in this car, and five in the other."

The Last Straw

A young country girl was evidently taking her first ride on the train. The conductor came through the car yelling, "Tickets, please", and after some embarrassment she handed him her ticket.

Soon after a train boy came into her car crying, "Chewing gum". The country maid turned to her companion and said, "Goodness, do I have to give up that, too?"

A Scientist

"I'm doing research work."

"How's that?"

"I'm working with the sheriff. He stops the cars and looks for liquor. I'm a little further down the road and I research them."

ANTICS OF A SCHOOL BOARD

ANY publicity is good publicity seems to be the slogan of the school directors and teachers of Jeffersonville, Ind. They got front page space recently when they forbade a child to attend school in knickers. For this absurdity they were laughed at by the civilized world. But they are crying for more. The fact that their fame was due to the amusement they caused does not matter. Apparently they believe it is better to be laughed at than not to be noticed at all.

When courts ordered the teachers and board of education to admit the girl, knickers and all, everybody thought the incident was closed. However, the directors and teachers, have sued the girl, her mother, lawyer and bondsman for $5600 damages for "exposing the school authorities to public ridicule and demoralizing the schools."

The first action was funny enough, but the second puts the authors largely in a place with the professional wags. Either they have a sense of humor or are blissfully ignorant of what the public was laughing at. What tickled society's funnybone was not the girl's successful fight for the right to wear knickers, but the idea of school directors fighting with a little girl of 9 over the propriety of wearing knickers in school.

If it were not unbelievable that anybody intrusted with the administration of public schools or the instruction of young Americans should be guilty of such conduct,, one might suspect that the new court proceedings were inspired by a revengeful feeling.

VACATION PERIL

ONE of the hazards of the vacation season is the danger of typhoid infection.

The Surgeon General of the United States Public Health Service has just issued a letter advising health officials, resort owners and others that unusual care should be exercised in regard to sanitation conditions and the examination of food-handlers during the coming months.

Such precautions should aid in checking the spread of germs by 'typhoid carriers." But they might be only partially effective if another and sometimes neglected source of infection is overlooked.

When Dr. Wilmer Krusen, Director of Public Health in Philadelphia, reported on the typhoid situation in 1926 he stated that motorists frequently contracted the disease by drinking impure water in communities where precautions were nonexistent or inadequate.

The roadside spring or well may also be a menace. Motorists who guard against infection from such sources not only protect their own health but aid city and state health officials in combating the spread of typhoid.

CHOOSING THE COOLIDGE VACATION HOME

THE almost universal spring pastime of poring over summer resort literature is reported to be engrossing President Coolidge and Mrs. Coolidge, now that their Secret Service surveyor, Colonel E. W. Starling, has returned from a tour of likely locations in the Middle West.

The doughty Colonel is reported to have visited and examined three places in Wisconsin, three in Colorado and a handful of sites in Minnesota, Iowa and South Dakota. On each of these he submitted a full report.

While the Colonel's literature is certain not to be written with the fine frenzy of the authors of "where to spend your vacation" literature, it may be expected to determine the decision of the Coolidge family within a short time. Every married man will understand, of course, why the family will make the decision; for even the President of the United States may not expect to have his own way in this momentous matter.

Gentlemen prefer blondes who were born that way.

So often a fly, like the truth, when crushed to earth will rise again.

A democracy is a land where nobody is important enough to call anybody impudent.

And trees and words,
And nesting birds
And all I've known
To call my own.

I've hungered long
On barren miles
For certain smiles
And bits of song,
And up and down
A crowded town
Where throngs were known
I've walked alone.

I've ached with pain
To see once more
One little door,
And hear again
Their voices ring
With welcoming.
Nostaligia's curse!
There's nothing worse.

In Day's News

Empire Day, which is being celebrated today throughout the British Empire, owes its origin to the Earl of Meath, an English peer whose interest in practical philanthropy and the public welfare has been most pronounced. Lord Meath belongs to one of the proudest families in all England. His great ancester Jacques reBrabanzon, "the great warrior," is one of the few who literally went to England with William the Conqueror and whose name appears on the roll of Battle Abbey. The present Earl, who succeeded to the title forty years ago, has given his attention to many enterprises of benefaction, but the chief of these is the establishment of open spaces in crowded cities. He also has been an active promoter of physical education as an aid to the health, happiness and prosperity of the nation.

It's queer human nature that enables a State where many individuals kill to sneer at one where a mob kills.

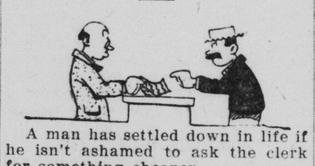
English statesmen agree their land wouldn't stand for Fascism. So they copy Mussolini and call it conversatism.

Chivalry: A typical American, whose wife manages on $60 a month, thinking a movie star should have $1500 a month alimony.

The feet of women in America are getting larger. For years the average size of girl's feet have been 4B. They are half an inch longer now and a full size wider. In spite of that the American woman still has the most beautiful foot in the world.

We have a lot of respect for men who risk their lives in order to make experiments that will help general humanity. Those men are heroes of the rarest kind. A man who will risk his life for others is always a hero.

In spite of all the successful achievements accomplished by men in aircraft, personally we will still have to confine our travel to vehicles that will have to have the earth to support them while in motion.



A man has settled down in life if he isn't ashamed to ask the clerk for something cheaper.

Bottles of water are being used to bust over the noses of airships when they are being christened. In the old days ships were baptised in booze and it seems to us the water is not only better but a more economical and lawful way to do it now.

The American youth who made the wonderful trip across the Atlantic ocean alone in an aeroplane does not smoke, chew or drink. This may be the reason he is a hero today. He also doesn't care much for the girls. He is young yet and that will come to him latter we are sure. That kind always gets an awful wallop when it falls for a skirt.

Can you imagine anyone so careless, or whatever you can call it, as to neglect to pay the little newsboy promptly who brings the daily paper through all kinds of weather. There are some such, but they are few we hope.

Eight little pigs are being raised with a nursing bottle at Blairsville, Pa. The mother of the piggies died. At the present price of pork it will pay to pay most any price to raise the piggies.

On thursday of this week you will hear one of America's greatest orators at the Scottish Rite Cathedral. He is the commissioner of correction in New York City and his story of the "Wave of Crime" will be worth hearing. Admission free. He is being brought here as a civic feature and those who are behind the move will pay the bill.

Most January diaries have been abandoned now.

A lover of dogs was fined $25 in Pittsburgh because he refused to tie up his darling after it had tried to make a meal out of a squad of humans. A dog lover just simply will not embarrass his dog and that's all there is to it and those who think otherwise are something fierce.

Maybe it is obeying the old blue law that prevented a man from kissing his wife on Sunday that causes him to be so neglectful the remainder of the week.

We are told that New Castle's magnificent new hotel will be ready by the first of September. It will mean a new era for this city when that tavern opens its doors.

The automobile manufacturer who can make a machine that will keep a dealer from referring to it as a pile of old junk a few days after it has been purchased by a consumer, will really have the inside track of the auto business. There is nothing that becomes second-hand and worthless as quickly as an automobile. A dealer can drive it miles and it is a new car, but when it is sold it's old and worn the same minute.

Can it be that the professional reformers never experience a moment when they feel like doing something devilish themselves?

It seems to us that when the preacher announces on Sunday morning that on the next Sunday morning a special offering will be taken up for a very necessary thing for the success of the church, it would be in order for all those hearing the request to do a little missionary work—yes, home missionary work—during the week in order to reach the goal. It seems to us the right thing to do.

A bee stinger is only one thirty-second of an inch long, but it can lift more than a hundred ton derrick in proportion to it's size. If you don't think so just fool around a stinger. The yell that goes with it is just extra measure.

It is reported that the sales of threshing machines in this country is away ahead of any previous record so far this year. This shows that we know very little of what is going on in the world. How many of your friends have bought threshing machines recently?

We've seen a Scotch post card that contains greetings for Christmas, New Years, Fourth of July, Memorial Day, Yom Kippur, birthdays, new babies, Mother's day, and what not. All the sender has to do is to check off the greeting intended, address it and drop it into the mail box, hoping the prospective recipient will be sufficiently curious to come across with the necessary postage when he is informed that it is waiting for him.

While there is no doubt that the man in Michigan who killed his wife and dynamited the school killing 35 or 40 scholars is crazy in the head, yet there are some people who express sympathy for him. We'd like to show our sympathy with a rope or a battle ax or something of that kind. We have no sympathy for criminals of either large or small degree and the quickest and easiest way of getting rid of them agrees with our mind perfectly.

One thing can be said of President Coolidge and that is he is the President who made sausage famous for breakfast by serving them at White House breakfasts.

The 34,000,000 bushel shortage of potatoes in this country is being felt now when the potato eaters are paying out the good hard cash for them. A shortage always brings demand and demand means prices.

Diversified crops for the south are recommended as a means of helping that country. Cotton being replaced by silk for everything a woman wears the south should feature potatoes or corn. There nearly always is a shortage of these crops.

The Land of a Million Smiles.

Do you know of a land of happiness
Reaching far through the mist of the miles,
Where every man helps the other man?
'Tis the land of a million smiles

'Tis a land where creed is live and let live,
And would lift up the man who would fall.
Truth, justice and wisdom the wealth of this land,
With the emblem of love over all.

Where forgotten are race and color and creed,
Where malice and hatred shall end,
For on every door the laichstring is out
And in every house is a friend.

You will know this land for the land is lit
By a million smiles each day,
And a million stars of hope give light
To the traveler on his way.

You will find this land of vanishing cares
Reaching through its sunlit miles,
'Tis the West! our West! the Golden West,
The land of a million smiles.

Byrd Should Not Start.
To Try Pacific.
A Wonderful Engine.
Many Good Americans.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE
(Copyright, 1927, By N. Y. American, Inc.

The Bellanca plane, which established a non-stop flight record, has abandoned its proposed flight to France.

Commander Byrd, first human being to fly across and around the north pole, should also give up his plan for a transatlantic "hop."

The thing has been done. Doing it again would serve no useful purpose. Airplanes have not yet been built to make such trips with safety. Commander Byrd should save himself for more important work.

The next thing should be airplane construction of a kind to make absolutely safe the sort of trip that Lindbergh made, at risk of his life, and this government should build such airships.

We have proved that we have the flyers. It is the government's business to provide them machines.

President Coolidge's message to Lindbergh pleases all Americans on whose behalf the message was sent, because it emphasized so strongly this nation's grief for the two brave Frenchmen, Nungesser and Coli. It would be a graceful thing if Americans would do something permanent and substantial to honor the memory and courage of those two men.

It was suggested here that Lindbergh might, in a year or two, make a non-stop flight over the Pacific, and now comes announcement of his plan to do so.

He would fly to Australia, from the Pacific coast, 6,511 miles, in a straight line.

His flight to Paris covered 3,800 miles without a stop. A skip of that engine, a slight break, would have put the country in mourning. The Wright Co., makers of the engine in that Ryan monoplane, deserve praise and fortune.

There are many kinds of good Americans. Gertrude Ederle, who swam the channel, was a German-American girl. Peary, who walked and drove dogs to the north pole, and Byrd, who flew over it, were Americans, a long way back.

Lindbergh, conqueror and hero of the hour, is a Swedish-American. It was appropriate that a Scandinavian should be first to fly east across the ocean that Norwegians crossed in row and sail boats first of all Europeans.

Our immigration law, by the way, now keeps out the sort of foreigners that have produced the Ederles, Lindberghs and every other kind of non-Indian American.

Lindbergh's feat proves that deeds of daring "mad-cap audacity," seeming reckless at the time, are of great, permanent value. It was called reckless folly when Columbus made his transatlantic "hop" in the opposite direction. Cool heads told him he would fall over the edge of the ocean, and his crew wanted to turn back.

Fulton's experiment with steam, and Franklin's with the kite, seemed foolish. Congressmen that voted to spend money on government experiments with telegraph messages were beaten for re-election. The voters "had no use" for a congressman that would vote to waste money.

Lindbergh's feat will find an echo in the next congress. It will occur to some congressman that if one man, all alone, could fly from here to Europe, some thousands might fly from Europe or Asia here, and be less welcome than Lindbergh was in Paris.

Lindbergh's difficulty now will be to find something worth doing that will not kill him. Any but Lindbergh news must seem tame for a few days.

The French are following the example set by Uncle Sam in Alaska and will introduce reindeer on unproductive mountain lands. A start has been made in Savoie, on the borders of the Alps.

Two men, already drunk, presented a forged $25 check to the owner of a speakeasy, to pay for bootleg liquor. The indignant bootlegger had them arrested. The court suspended sentence, presumably on the theory that the check was no worse than the whisky. Was there any interference with the bootlegger?

* * *

If this country really wanted to stop bootlegging, it could cripple it, by making the purchase of liquor a felony. Respectable business men would not longer brag of their "reliable bootleggers," if those gentlemen had power to send them to jail.

MUSIC BY THE LIGHT SOCKET

It is now announced by the press that the electric light socket will become a throat for the radio.

All you will have to do will be to plug in on an ordinary light socket and you can hear music furnished by the special program people and thus your electrical equipment will furnish you light and sound at will.

The messages will not come through the air, but along the electric wire, and will be delivered to the electric cables through microphones by a special process at certain central offices.

It is proposed to pay for the expense of this by charging the user of the device a small rental.

This intrigues the imagination. The radio itself was a wonderful thing and how any one could bring a little box into his room anywhere or carry it in his automobile and have it catch the whispered messages of the air for him is something still to marvel at.

There seems to be no limit to the uses to which electricity may be put. Some people say that life itself is but a form of electric energy. Certain it is that the whole universe is filled with this strange power we call electricity.

No man knows what it is. He can only tell how it acts. It is like the wind, "Thou knowest not where it cometh nor where it goeth, but only hearest the sound thereof."

Electricity is more and more entering into the field of transportation. Automobiles are thick throughout the country and electric trains in some sections carry passengers.

More marvelous than this, however, is to see a huge load of sand or brick whisked along the highway by electric power.

There seems to be no limit to the capabilities of this strong giant. Since the days when Franklin drew the electric fluid from the clouds by a kite and a silken string down to the present time, electricity has amazed mankind by its development.

The transportation of power through the air without wires is not a remote possibility.

The coming age may well be called an electric age just as the past was the age of steam and coal.

The electric battery, storage battery, for moving automobiles and tram cars has not been perfected so as to become universally practicable, but the end is in sight and some of the most ingenious minds of the race are engaged in the problem.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

WHY CALL IT A MOVIE?

When is a Movie not a Movie? That is the burning question. Nowadays you go into a movie house to see a certain picture that interests you because of this or that feature, or perhaps you go to see the World Events portrayed on the silver screen. You take your seat, but before you is not a screen at all. It is a stage upon which black-faced comedians may be dancing to the latest jazz tune, or where half-naked beauties are exhibiting themselves and their dancing abilities. Perhaps some cracked tenor, or nervous soprano is singing unintelligible songs to the accompaniment of that same jazz orchestra. You sit through an hour of this performance, and wonder just what you came into this particular movie playhouse for, when the curtain is drawn, and immediately withdrawn, disclosing the screen and the picture thereon.

This practice evidently pleases the people, or it would not be continued. In some movie playhouses, the stage entertainment is of a higher class, and yet it does not belong in the least to the movie business. It is not the thing for which the aveage lover of the screen goes to the theater to enjoy. Mr. Rothafel has opened his beautiful cinema palace in New York known as "The Roxy". He has left nothing undone which any patron might conceive ought to have been done in the building and embellishing of this theater. He is showing there the best that he can obtain by way of screen plays. Yet he believes that the public wants something more, and he is giving it to them to the nth degree, even to getting Miscka Levitski to play the piano there.

to the nth degree, even to getting Miscka Levitski to play the piano there.

Think of Levitzki playing at a motion picture house. This great pianist opened a recent program with Saint Saen's "Concert in G Minor", and a New York play critic says that he wonders why some of America's concert impressarios do not take the hint and give the great performer, whether it be on the piano or violin, or what, the same sort of a setting which Rothafel gives to his performers.

This is not enough; on the same bill is an elaborate ballet from Prince Igor, and a Russian choir sings. Also the newly invented Movietone which is the latest perfection in talking pictures, is exhibited. Finally the real thing in motion pictures is shown by way of "The Yankee Clipper". Those who go to see "The Yankee Clipper", those who have read the yarns of the sea, and recall at least by their reading the stories of the "Sovereign of the Seas", and the other clippers of the Fifties, get at the tail-end of a very gorgeous performance the thing for which they came to the theater to see.

The Movie threatens to remain, no longer the Movie. It seems today only to occupy as in this case, the tail-end of the procession.

Is this to mark the beginning of the end of Movie Leadership?

CHARLES B. DRISCOLL

WHERE IS KNOWLEDGE?

James Dimitrios is one of a dozen shoe-shiners in the basement of the Times building, New York City, where most of my writing is done. James shines my shoes, and as he does his menial task, I sit at his feet, figuratively speaking. He tells me of the beautiful Sparta, where he was born. There is in his eyes a wistful memory when he says, "I cannot tell you, kyrios, how beautiful it is!"

I catch at the word "kyrios", and thus begins my Greek lesson. James has a major task on his hands, burnishing up my Greek of college days, and trying to render it practical and useful. "Kyrios", he explains, is something like "My Lord", as that expression is used by Englishmen in addessing one of the nobility. In fact, it is the word the Greeks use in addressing God and the nobility, just as "Lord" is used by the aforementioned Englishmen. But James is a humble soul, and anyone who takes an interest in his native land is nobility to him.

There is so much that I might learn from James that I am sorry when he has finished his careful work. I want to hear more, in his beautifully incomplete English, about the ancient heroes of his country, as he has heard the classics from his father. While I sit before James, having my shoes shined, the immortal heroes and philosophers of incomparable Greece pass before me in review, for they are all living personalities to the mind of James.

He tells me again how Leonidas and his little band of heroes held at bay the thousands of their country's enemies in the narrow pass at Thermopylae four hundred years before the birth of Christ. I am thrilled by the story, far more than I am thrilled by any of the current murder stories and tales of international intrigue. Patroitism shines out as a holy light, illuminating the history of heroic days. And I go away from James' informal school wondering whether the call may not come to some of us Americans, some day, to stand at our Thermopylae and write in blood an epic for future ages.

Where, after all, may one learn? From whom may we gain wisdom? Must we be dumb because we have not spent 15 minutes a day with a certain set of books, and must we be stupid because we have not bought somebody's book of wisdom?

I do not think so. I love books, and spend far more time with them than is good for my eyes. But I find that people are among the most interesting and instructive elements in this great and entertaining world in which we pass our years. School is never adjourned, so long as there are people with whom one may talk.

Asphalt-Brick Paving Controversy Arouses Discussion In City

New Castle citizens are watching with more than ordinary interest the controversy between council and citizens regarding the paving materials to be used on Delaware avenue and North Mercer street, two of the largest paving contracts that have been let in this city in recent years.

When the contracts were awarded they were let for brick paving. Since the awards effort has been made by some of the property owners to have the streets paved with asphalt.

Councilmen have not as yet made a final decision as to whether or not the paving materials will be changed. A Youngstown contracting firm secured the contracts as well as contracts for some paving in the vicinity of the New Castle hospital. The contracting company demands that if the change is made from brick to asphalt on any of the streets that it be made on all of them.

According to comment heard, New Castle citizens believe that council will probably not change the original contract.

Asphalt streets in New Castle would be but another experiment, they say. We have good brick and concrete streets, and they are regarded as most excellent paving. In making a change to asphalt for a few streets, it is pointed out that it would be a new expense to the city to prepare for the upkeep of these streets. Those who are discussing the situation declare that upkeep of asphalt streets is more of a problem that for brick and concrete. New Castle is not equipped to take care of asphalt streets, and it is declared in some sources that it would be an inadvisable thing to pave streets with material that the city is not equipped to take care of, when brick or concrete paving, which is just as serviceable or more so, does not require any such steps.

Asphalt paving surface is not believed to be the best available for streets upon which there are hills, it is asserted, and both Delaware avenue North Mercer streets have stretches of hills that are quite a stiff grade.

Then again the matter of changing from brick as specified to asphalt means that a large contract that goes to a Lawrence County concern, the Bessemer Brick plant, would not be received, and the advantage that would accrue to local industry would be eliminated, a no little factor in the matter.

Efforts For Extra Session Of Congress Not Successful

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to New Castle News.

WASHINGTON, May 24. — The United States senate evidently left a very bad taste in this country's mouth when congress adjourned last March.

It will be recalled that the senate wound up the session with a long filibuster.

In ordinary, unparliamentary language:

One group of senators said, "Here are some bills we want to get acted on before adjournment."

Quoth another group of senators, "We won't act on 'em."

"You will," threatened the first group, "or else we'll block action on everything you want acted on."

That's exactly what happened.

Neither group would let the other group do another lick of business.

The house of representatives did its duty, but what the house had done counted for nothing without the senate's okeh on it, and the senate quit deadlocked.

The result was that a lot of important matters which ought to have been disposed of were left hanging in the air, where they are yet.

Thereby some millions of people were seriously inconvenienced.

There are numerous signs that they don't feel at all kindly toward the senate. They don't appear to have picked out either of the rival senatorial groups, particularly, to cherish sentiments of resentment against, but indications are that the entire upper house of congress makes 'em tired.

This has been especially noticeable in the last few days, in connection with Senator Jim Reed's campaign to force an extra session to vote Mississippi valley flood relief.

A good many members of the national legislature are still in Washington and the Missouri solon has been bombarding them with telegrams urging their support in a demand that the lawmakers be called together immediately, for adoption of a river control measure for the future.

I suppose he has similarly bombarded other congressmen who went home when the 69th session ended, but the ones here are concentrated and it's possible to observe their collective reaction to Jim's appeal.

It isn't enthusiastic.

An extra session to provide flood relief has been more or less talked about ever since levees began to pop, and a majority of the people's representatives who remain on the job have had time to communicate with their constituencies.

I've seen a sizeable stack of the messages they've received from their various bailiwicks and the general tenor of them is:

"Aw, what's the use! All an extra session of congress would amount to would be more wind-jamming by the senate. Blamed if we see how that would relieve anybody."

If congress did meet in extra session, the senate couldn't possibly take up flood relief the first thing.

Ahead of everything, it would have to decide whether William S. Vare of Pennsylvania and Frank L. Smith of Illinois are or are not senators. The popular impression plainly is that it would take all summer.

The hunch I get is that there's no public clamor for an extra session to put Smith and Vare out of their misery.

Three Anglers Held Prisoners 12 Hours By "Playful" Bears

HUNTINGDON, Pa., May 24.—John D. Shaffer, Marion Hunter and Charles E. Forbes, members of the Ponhaus Gun Club, on a fishing trip, were marooned in their camp last night by the playful operations of two black bears that had gained entrance on the first floor.

Fearing to attack the bears without firearms, which were on the lower floor, the clubmen were kept imprisoned 12 hours before their forest tormentors withdrew. In appraising their losses on venturing below, the men found that the bears had devoured and destroyed a bucket of maple sugar, three hams, several cartons of breakfast food and a score of jars of preserved fruit.

Forget To Place Casket In Hearse, Funeral Stopped

SEAFORD, Del., May 24.—The funeral procession for the burial of Harley Pusey was almost to the cemetery yesterday afternoon with a hearse full of flowers, when a mourner, left at home, discovered the casket with the corpse had been forgotten and left in the house.

A highway trooper who happened along was dispatched at once on his motorcycle to head off the procession. No one seemed to be able to understand how the mistake was made.

Payroll Bandit Changes Plea To That Of Guilty

Joseph Weckoski, Of Washington County, Enters Plea For Mercy

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, May 24.—Joseph Weckoski of Washington county, on trial charged with robbery and being an accessory to robbery in connection with the Coverdale armored car hold-up, when a $104,000 payroll was stolen, withdrew his plea of not guilty today and entered a plea of nollo contendre. He will likely be called for sentence late today.

Judge J. Frank Graff accepted the plea and permission was given Benjamin Lencher, Weckoski's attorney, to bring character witnesses into court to testify in the defendant's behalf before the case would be finally adjudged.

Weckoski conferred with his wife and counsel before asking permission of the court to change his plea to that of "no defense".

The change was decided on shortly after court had opened for the second day of the trial and after Assistant District Attorney Andrew Park had introduced evidence to show that Weckowski's farm was a rendezvouz of the bandit gang; that $37,000 of the loot had been dug up there; and that Weckoski had knowledge of the gang's project.

Park also announced that the money found on the Weckoski farm would be turned over to the Brinks Express Company or the insurance company liable for the loss. The money was in court as evidence.

New Flights Are Planned

Hop to Honolulu May Be Next Big Attempt For Aviators

By JAMES KILGALLEN,
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, May 24.—San Francisco to Honolulu in one jump! Etah, Greenland over the ice cap.

Or——

Etah to Point Barrow, Alaska in search of islands.

Anyone of these may be the next spectacular air flight. It was indicated today. Commander Richard E. Byrd was reported to be considering the abandonment of his plan to fly from New York to Paris now that "Slim" Lindbergh has blazed that glorious trail, and turn his attention to new worlds to conquer by air.

Byrd, who achieved undying fame by flying over the North Pole, has not officially announced any change of the plans for the flight of the three-motored monoplane "America," which had been tuning up for the New York-to-Paris flight but Byrd was said to have lost much of his desire to make the Paris jump. The "America" will not fly for at least a week, it was stated at Roosevelt field.

"Lindbergh accomplished many of the things I hoped we might accomplish," said Byrd as he paid high tribute to the youth of whom the entire world is talking.

The flight to Paris of the Bellanca plane, which Clarence D. Chamberlain, noted endurance flyer was to pilot has been abandoned definitely.

There was a well-defined movement to allow Lindbergh's achievement to stand alone.

Dangers Of Streets Brought To Parents

Head Of Auto Club Again Warns Of Dangers Of Playing In Streets

Spring weather, returning to all parts of the country and stimulating the play spirits of millions of children, places an especial responsibility upon parents to pay close attention to youngsters' outdoor activities, says B. N. Hanlon, secretary of the New Castle Motor club. This is Mr. Hanlon's second attempt to bring this fact to the public view. The American Automobile association urges its club members to watch out for child life and is also conducting a campaign against reckless driving. In his recent statement, Hanlon urged the drivers to take care, now he pleads with the parents to guard the child and keep him in a safe place.

Because they have no other place to play, the children will take their bats, balls, tops, marbles and skipping ropes into the streets, creating a tremendous traffic hazard. It is the function of the parents to discourage this practice whenever and wherever possible. See to it that your children play in a safe place.

Traffic conditions mean nothing to a child, they do not realize the dangers and only the parents can show them the many hazards these conditions hold. Telling a youngster to keep out of the street is not enough. Even the obedient child forgets, in its enthusiasm for baseball, rope- skipping or some other form of play that the street is dangerous.

The wise parent will go farther than merely telling the child not to play in the street. He or she will attempt to find an available safe play space. School grounds of course are available to many youngsters. It is true that many owners of vacant lots, which make ideal play grounds forbid youngsters to use them for this purpose.

As we understand the new theory, insanity doesn't affect the mind.

LEWIS ASSERTS END OF STRIKE TO COME SOON

President Of Mine Workers In Pittsburgh On Inspection Visit Sees Victory

By ROBERT W. GINSBURG
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PITTSBURGH, May 24.—John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America, is optimistic. While he refused to say so in as many words, the veteran labor leader hinted to newspapermen here today that the strike would be over before many more weeks.

Lewis was here Monday conferring with Philip Murray, international vice president of the union, and district officials on the administrative and financial aspects of the strike in district five, comprising western Pennsylvania.

Lewis showed by government figures that more than 3,000,000 of the 8,000,000 tons of coal now being produced weekly is being brought to the surface by union labor. The total, he said, is 3,000,000 tons short of the weekly consumption.

The balance of the strike, Lewis pointed out, can be figured out mathematically. Late in June and throughout July the demand for coal will be increased by orders from dealers desiring to secure their fall stocks. This demand, Lewis said, would be the turning point of the strike.

Reviewing the entire central competitive field, Lewis said there are 3,132 union men working under temporary contracts in Illinois at the present time. In Indiana, he pointed out, two large companies signed up during the past week, bringing 35 per cent of the average total production in that state under union contract. Ohio conditions are satisfactory, the miners' leader said. There have been no changes of policy among the operators that would perturb the union heads, according to Lewis.

Turning to the Pittsburgh district, Lewis appeared less optimistic, but hurled defiance at the Pittsburgh Terminal Coal Corporation and the Pittsburgh Coal Co., which control production in this area.

Lewis said figures of the Pittsburgh Coal Company showed it to be losing money in a ratio greater than during the first three months of this year. He said it would be merely a matter of time until the stockholders would refuse to pay for further losses.

The Pittsburgh Terminal Coal Corporation, which recently decided to go on a non-union basis, Lewis said, would eventually return, but the end is inevitable, he said.

Lewis said the conditions throughout the Pittsburgh area, considered by both the union and the operators as the keystone to the whole situation, are excellent. He said the strike here was in better shape than on the occasion of his last visit.

Lewis announced he would return to Pittsburgh the middle of June to conduct a four-day series of mass meetings throughout the district, in which the issues and concrete policies of the union will be made public. These meetings, Lewis said, will be held from June 14 to 17, inclusive.

After the great Mississippi river flood of 1874, Congress created a commission of five engineers to determine and report on the best system for permanent relief from floods.

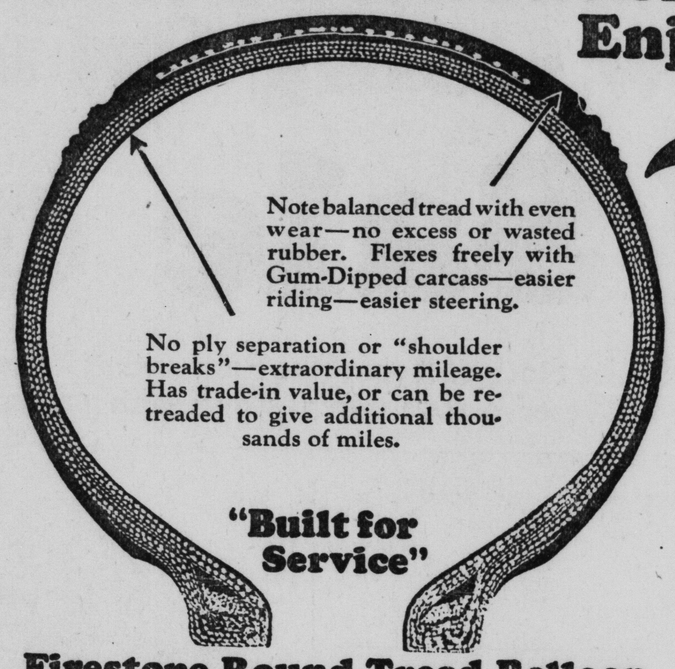
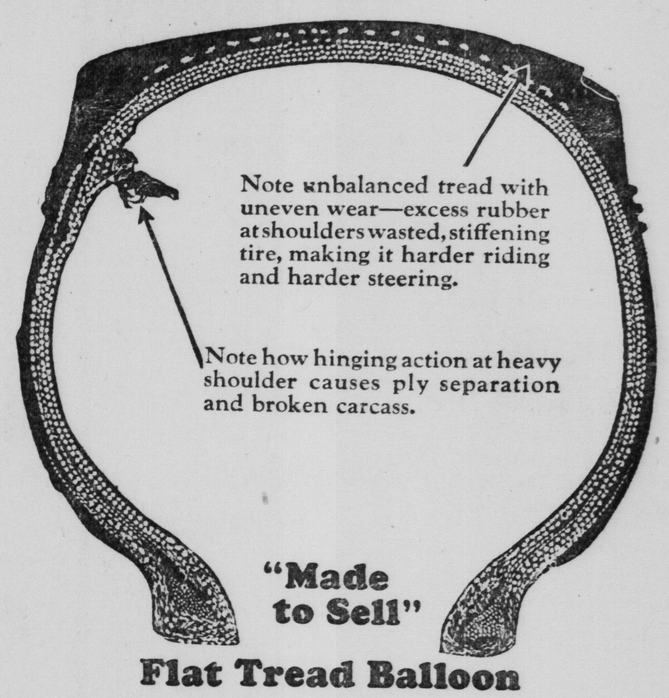
GUM-DIPPED TIRES



Firestone Round Tread Balloon



Flat Tread Balloon

MANY Firestone Dealers are prepared to take in your old tires, offering you a liberal allowance on a new set of Gum-Dipped Balloons, which will give you extra safety, comfort and economy for the motoring season.

Firestone Dealers are the experienced tire men in your community. They are given the advantages of attending Firestone Repair Schools, located at the Factories and in principal Branch Cities, and the Tire Educational Meetings held throughout the country, where tire design and construction are discussed. The sections of used tires reproduced here are a part of this Educational program. Study these two sections and you, too, will understand what Firestone means by tires built for service and tires made to sell.

The Firestone Gum-Dipped Balloon with its scientifically designed tread permits free flexing, easier riding, extra comfort and safety.

The balloon tire with heavy, flat tread design is obviously stiffer and rides harder. The excess rubber, placed for appearance at the edges of the tread, is not only wasted but produces hinging action causing ply separation and "shoulder breaks."

Firestone designed and manufactures Oldfield Tires and Tubes, distributing them direct to Firestone Dealers only, through 148 Factory Warehouses. This efficient and economical distribution assures tire buyers everywhere, clean, fresh stocks of Firestone and Oldfield Tires in all types and sizes, and has helped to make possible today's remarkably low prices—the lowest in tire history. See the Firestone Dealer today.

WILD ANIMALS HAVE A LIKING FOR EAST BROOK

Bear Seen Some Time Ago And Two Fawns Are Reported Seen On Monday

When any wild animals take a notion to visit Lawrence county they always seem to pay a visit to East Brook. Not long ago East Brook residents were excited over a bear. On Monday Game Protector Frank Johnston was notified that two fawn had been seen.

In this connection Mr. Johnston says that he has just received a letter from the state game commission calling attention to the rapid increase in deer, and extending the open season in this state. The letter says:

The game commission of Pennsylvania has been so successful in the conservation of the state wild life that it finds itself today, after 30 years of endeavor, in the position of seeking to destroy that which it has so strenuously endeavored to build up. A specie of our wild life, namely the deer, has so increased that there is no longer sufficient food to carry the vast herds over the winter months; a situation without parallel in the history of game administration.

In 1907 the law was passed protecting female deer and declaring an open season upon male deer only.

Since the commission then operated with extremely limited funds, there was no attempt made with the small field force to estimate the numbers of deer. The state was known to be nearly shot out.

In 1913 the Resident Hunters' License Act was passed and with greatly increased income, an adequate force of help was employed and that fall an estimate of the legal kill was made. This estimate was 800 legal bucks.

Since there were 800 legal bucks killed, there must have been 800 female deer to have furnishd the offspring.

Each year the kill was counted, and during the 13 years from 1913 to 1926 there were killed in Pennsylvania 58,645 legal buck deer.

To estimate the present number of female deer, beginning the year 1913, and presuming that 800 buck deer indicate 800 female deer, and that each year there were added at least an equal number of female births, we find by simple addition that compounding the interest produces today the startling fact that there are 1,300,000 female deer in Pennsylvania.

Beginning with 800 legal bucks killed in 1913, and the kill increasing to over 12,000 in 1926, all these years the female living and reproducing, and each female born reproducing, we are not surprised that our increase has reached the saturation point, and as a result the winter food supply is exhausted.

The winter scarcity of food has driven the deer to the farmers' fields, where they have acquired new feeding habits and years of protection of the female deer has caused them to lose somewhat their fear of the human, resulting in a change of the habits of our deer herds and a resulting damage to the farmer and orchards.

During the last few years the game commission has struggled to cope with this great problem. The commission has planted food at a cost of $58,113.47. It has fenced 43 orchards, six farms and nine truck patches at a cost of $18,-507.93.

They have granted special open doe seasons in affected districts, resulting in a kill of 2,458 does.

They have granted some land owners the right to kill the deer and retain the meat for food, and they have endeavored to trap out the animals in these districts.

These remedial measures have failed to give any great amount of relief because the production of deer continues so greatly to exceed the reduction.

What then must be done? With the evidence of great overproduction in spite of our annual kill, with the evidence of damage being done and with the evidence of starvation so apparent, the commission will open the week of November 20th to the licensed hunters of the state to the killing of female deer as another means of relief, and it is the hope of the commission that the sportsmen of the state will help solve this great problem by taking advantage of this open season and in a sportsmanlike manner help reduce the great herds of large female deer.

The season will in no wise interfere with the regular buck season in December. One license will, as usual, cover the entire season, and the sportsmen may, for the first time in 20 years, kill a doe to match the mounted buck.

Vacant Lots Are Being Beautified

West Wallace Avenue Property Owners Do Commendable Work

Property owners on West Wallace avenue, between Beaver and Shenango streets, are showing a public spirit which should commend itself to residents of many other sections of the city.

For some years past, four vacant lots along the hollow at the north side of West Wallace avenue and between the points mentioned, have been an eyesore, owing to the fast that the owners have allowed them to be a mass of dense undergrowth and also more or less of a dumping spot.

This spring the residents of the section mentioned took it upon themselves to make it a beauty spot instead of an eyesore of many years. Funds were raised and it amounted to considerable per property owner and the rubbish was removed.

Not only this, but these residents are spending hours and hours, clearing out the underbrush and the place is now a real park and the people of that district intend that it will continue to be so.

There are similar conditions in other parts of the city which interested citizens could improve in the same manner and not only make certain districts look better but really increase the value of their properties.

Earthquake Shocks Disable Seismograph

(International News Service)

LENINGRAD, May 24—Earthquakes, so violent that they broke the seismograph, were registered at the Academy of Science station here today.

The earthquakes are believed to have centered in Mongolia and Tibet, and it is estimated that the shocks were heavier than those of the Japanese earthquake in 1923. The shocks were registered for three hours before the seismograph was disabled.

Ordinance Providing Grading And Paving Out Of Committee.

WILLIAM STREET TO BE IMPROVED, ALSO

Greenwood avenue, between West Washington and State street, will be graded and paved this summer, council indicated today in regular session by reporting favorably from committee a measure providing for the improvement.

Other measures which were reported favorably from committee follow:

An ordinance providing for the grading and paving of South Jefferson street between Terrace and Miller avenue.

An ordinance providing for the paving of the cartway of William street between Lathrop street and East Long avenue.

Council plans another improvement, that of widening the east sidewalks of Mulberry street by decreasing the cartway to 22 feet between Brooklyn and Cleveland avenue.

A recommendation urging this was presented by Engineer Miller and an ordinance providing for the improvement will be acted upon finally May 31.

Fire Damages To Bakery Building Amount To $2,000

GROVE CITY, Pa., May 24. — Fire blazing within the interior of the Ideal Bakery building, destroyed $2,000 worth of machinery and fixtures late Saturday afternoon. The blaze originated in the "proofing room" as the result of a boiler burning dry and becoming overheated, and was not discovered until the entire interior of the closed-in room had been burned. The quick arrival of the Fire Department and their efficent work saved the building and machinery other than that in the "proofing room", and the only damage done to the store room in the front of the building was from steam and smoke surging out.

The bakery, which is in the Glenn & Clelland business block, was the scene of an exactly similar fire two years ago which caused slightly more damage than Saturday's blaze. Al Miles and J. L. Bowie, owners of the Ideal Bakery, state that the entire damage was covered by insurance with a local firm. Workmen started Saturday evening to repair the interior of the building and expect to complete the work in a few days.

Re-Test Cattle For Tuberculosis

MERCER, Pa., May 24.—News that is of great importance in Mercer county is that work on the re-test of the 37,000 head of county cattle for tuberculin infection will start on June 6 it is said at the Farm Bureau office today.

Mercer county the first in the state to be given a county wide test for infected cattle will be the first to be given the three year re-test.

Before a county is accredited its infected animals must not exceed in number over one-half of one per cent.

The regulations for the re-test provide for the same quantity. If the number of infected animals exceed the ratio quota the accredited area rating is lost.

Townships will be tested one at a time. The test has been delayed from April to June by the state Bureau of Animal Husbandry under whose direction the present test is put on.

Cottage Hospital Treats Over 1000 Patients In Year

MERCER, Pa., May 24.—An increase that will approximate 100 percent since its opening three years ago will be shown by the records of the Mercer Cottage Hospital when its books close on July 1st 1927.

The first year record at the hospital was 615 patients; that of the following year 915 and that for 1927 at the present rate of admittance will total 1,100.

To date there have already been 1,000 patients admitted at the hospital in 1927. Of this total of cases the major portion of them are operative. The increase in patients has taxed the capacity of the hospital to accomodate at times.

Several changes have already taken place at the institution to provide more room for incoming patients and of recent date a nurses home has been built at a cost of $25,000, which will provide for the 14 nurses a home outside the building and will make possible by their vacated sleeping quarters an increase in bed capacity to sixty at the hospital.

The institution known for 30 years as the Mercer Cottage State hospital was built and operated by the state until four years ago when it was closed up; stood vacent a year and was then sold to the present proprietor Dr. D. E. Vogan then attached to the hospital at Kane, Pa.

American Citizens Are Now Taking Interest In International Affairs

People All Over Nation Are Showing Concern Over Foreign Policies

President Asks Nation To Stand Behind Policies Of Government

By GEORGE H. MANNING
(Washington Correspondent of the News.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 24.—American citizens are thinking and talking more about international affairs today than at any time since the World War—and politicians are preparing to take advantage of this respite from prohibition and farm relief.

Strange and stirring things are happening all over the world, and some turn of affairs has made the upheavals in the Orient and in Latin-America seem close to the man on Main Street and Wall Street.

Six thousand people went out the other night in Cleveland, Ohio, to hear Senator William E. Borah of Idaho talk about China.

Recognizing the awakened concern over international affairs, the President has twice asked the press and the country to stand behind the administration's foreign policy. Administration spokesmen have pointed out that the Constitution placed the matter of foreign relations in the hands of the Executive, and that there it should rest, without interference from a public which cannot know all the essential facts.

But events are now taking place which will, administration leaders hope, quiet all criticism and allow the President to point to definite achievements in foreign affairs.

The United States refused to join with England and the other powers concerned in sending an imperialistic note to China. The United States is making progress towards establishing peace in Nicaragua, by supervising an election in 1928 to allow the Nicaraguans to choose between the Diaz-Chamorro and the Sacasa factions. Further agitation in Europe for a cancellation of their war debts to the United States has been squelched by Secretary Mellon and Secretary Kellogg.

Stirs Sympathy

Both in China and in Central and South America there has arisen a nationalistic and democratic movement which rather stirs the sympathy of Americans, remembering their own struggle for freedom and a republican form of government 150 years ago.

President Coolidge said in a recent speech: "We have no disposition to do otherwise than to assist and encourage every legitimate aspiration for freedom, for unity, for the cultivation of a national spirit, and the realization of a republican form of government." Liberty-loving Americans, no doubt, heartily endorse this utterance of their President. Yet American citizens have lost their lives at the hands of the very people in China and Nicaragua who are fighting for these nationalistic principles.

The aims of the present revolution in China, according to Senator Borah, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, are to obtain for China control of her own tariffs, now in the hands of foreign powers; possession of her own territory; the execution of her own laws; and the unification of the country.

In the countries of Central and South America, according to those who have studied these peoples, a similar nationalistic spirit has arisen. What first seemed to be a more "Central American revolution," of the usual trifling sort, in Nicaragua, now appears to be a far stronger uprising, involving much more than a guerilla conflict between two opposing political factions.

Senator Borah declares that 80 to 90 per cent of the Nicaraguans are sympathetic with Sacasa, who claimed to be the constitutionally elected president, while Diaz, was recognized by the United States.

Way Out For U. S.

Many observers look at the settlement now being undertaken by the United States in Nicaragua as a way for the United States to extricate itself gracefully from a bad situation in which it unwittingly got itself. The election, if held in good faith, will put Sacasa in the presidency, these critics of Coolidge and Kellogg declare, and Nicaragua will be where it would have been last year had not the United States supported Diaz.

American lives would have been saved, and American prestige in Latin-America would have been much higher, with consequent improvement to American trade in the countries to the South, if the United States had not sent marines down to serve as buffers between Diaz and Sacasa forces, to make "neutral zones" out of areas held by the Sacasa army, to deny the use of the railroads to Sacasa's Liberal contingent, and otherwise, as young Senator Robert M. LaFollette puts it, to create "a virtual state of war with our sister Republic, Nicaragua."

But the Administration is now breathing a sigh of relief in the belief that the air is clearing as far as international affairs are concerned, and that all will be peaceful and happy along the Chinese and Nicaraguan fronts by the time the Presidential campaign of 1928 is under way.

To Elect Staff For Westminstrel

New Student Publication At Westminster To Secure Staff For Next Year

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., May 24.—Election of a staff to edit the "Westminstrel," the latest student publication at Westminster College, next year, will probably be held this week, according to announcement by the faculty committee on publications.

The first edition of the magazine, a literary and humorous publication, appeared on the campus a few days ago and was received with such approval that it will be continued as an official college magazine. It will be published three times during each school year in the future.

The staff will be elected from a group recommended by the faculty committee. The staff will probably number 15 with Professor R. X. Graham as faculty advisor.

Contributors to the first edition who will no doubt be recommended for election to the permanent staff for next year are Douglas Anderson of Philadelphia, Paul Gibson, of New Kensington, Wilbur Baldinger of Butler, Graham Fithian of Butler, James McQuiston of Cochranton, Clare Swisher of Mahoningtown, John Trevaskus of Turtle Creek, William Robertson of New Wilmington, Miss Muriel Irons of Coraopolis, Miss Elizabeth Edeburn of Sharon, Wilson Botsford of Pittsburgh, Robert McAlister of Pittsburgh, Miss Elizabeth Glover of New Castle, Miss Margaret Guy of New Castle, Miss Florence Jenkins of New Castle, Phyllis Coley of Cochranton, Margaret Lennig of New Castle, Miss Lois Williamson of New Castle, and Aubrey Moore of Walton, N. Y.

The Eaglet

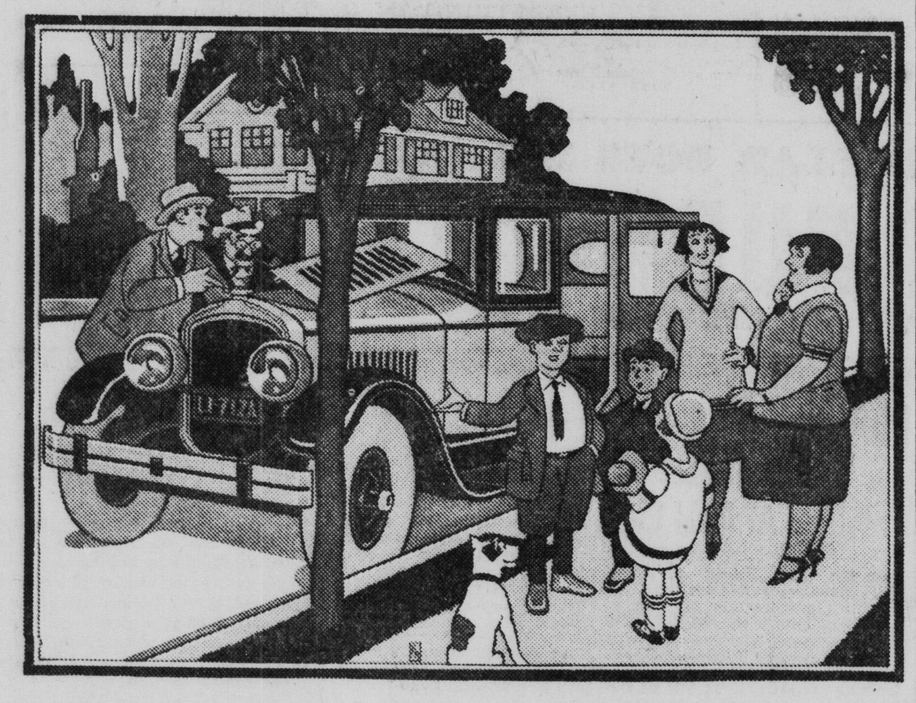
Up from the ease of his Western aery
Into the menacing mists that lower
Soared an eaglet, his young heart cheery
Anxious to show the world his power
Eastward he turned his tender wings
Speeding a hundred miles an hour.

Will he make it? Will he make it
The enraptured nations cry
As anxious but also confident
Flashes the mother eagle's eye
Where death vies with success she screams
My eaglets very seldom die.

And then the peal of triumph comes
From lands across the sea
From Ireland, England, La Belle France
Delirious with glee
A great achievement greatly done
And ending gloriously.

To Lindbergh: Every praise is due
Thou eaglet of this western shore
Part of a powerful brood, and you
Are worthy of the score
Rolled up on Fate, your eagle dam
Is proud of you; and many more.

...and here's the gasoline to keep the spryness of youth in that new car of yours



THE "breaking in" period is the most critical of an automobile engine's life. Be very particular about the gasoline you use. Fuel that is hard to ignite or incomplete in combustion causes misfires, "loping"—uneven running. That jars the bearings. And you know what that means.

Be sure. Play safe. There's an Atlantic pump around most every corner. And in it is the finest all-round gasoline money can buy.

The new 1927 Atlantic Gasoline is unlike any other motor fuel in the world. It is the perfection of a combination of qualities that make it the easiest starting, snappiest, rangiest gasoline you've ever put into your tank.

Made from a union of the choicer elements of California, Texas and West Virginia crudes, this new gasoline meets the requirements of modern motors and modern driving conditions as no gasoline has ever done before.

. . . And get this: Any gasoline made to keep new motors young is pretty sure to bring back the spryness of youth to old motors as well. Atlantic does that very thing.

Children Of Henry Home Look Eagerly To Summer With Chance For Outings

Some 30 children of the Margaret Henry Home are looking forward to summer and vacation time with its picnics, hikes, parties and general good times, says Miss Henry who is slowly recovering from the illness that has kept her from active management of the Home for the last four months.

Mrs. Madge Place has been in charge of the Home during the illness of Miss Henry. Miss Henry said that if she continues to improve that she hopes to be actively engaged in the work soon again.

The event that the children are looking forward to at the present time is the ballgame between the police and garbagemen on Friday. Their Fairy god-father has arranged that they may see the game free of cost. They also enjoyed the Croton operetta last Friday evening as the guests of the Principal, W. A. Hoffmaster.

Thus through out the summer events will bring sunshine into the lives of these proteges of the Home. Sometimes a good friend in the country will take them out for a day and often they stay over night, sleeping on the floor where there is not room otherwise for them. Miss Henry says they always enjoy the animals on the farm and are especially interested in the pump and the lighting of oil lamps.

Then friends of the kiddies will arrange picnics and auto rides trips to the park, bathing parties, etc. so that before they know it the summer will be over and they will be back at their fall duties and pleasures of the Home.

The children of school age are looking forward to the end of school and their promotions. A very high average scholarship is shown by them in their school work for 5 out of 20 have been on the honor rolls the past few months, which is as high as most any group could make even under the past favorable circumstances. Mrs. Place and Miss Henry says the greatest interest is taken in their school work and they are individually encouraged when tardy with their work and fittingly praised when they have accomplished something special. When they bring their reports home, after the evening services the matron goes over each one carefully as would a mother.

McKEESPORT, Pa., May 24. — George Hemminger, 59, a roomer in a hotel here, was shot through the left lung today while he and William Lewis, 50, of Highland Grove, were sitting at a table in a saloon adjoining the hotel, according to authorities.

Lewis was arrested, accused with the shooting. Lewis, sitting opposite to Hemminger, suddenly seized the latter's revolver, which had been put on the table, and fired point blank, witnesses told police.

Lewis refused to talk, police said, and Hemminger was too seriously wounded to be questioned.

Tifereth Israel Congregation Burns Synagogue Mortgage

On Sunday afternoon, May 22, a celebration was held in the Tifereth Israel Synagogue on South Jefferson street, to mark the burning of the mortgage which has been on the synagogue.

An excellent program was presented to a large assembly, including many who were charter members of the congregation when founded thirty-three years ago.

Rabbi S. Sivitz of Pittsburgh, and Rabbi Eugene Kohn of Youngstown, were introduced by Mark L. Rabinovitz, chairman of the program, and spoke in their usual forceful and interesting manner. Several vocal selections were rendered by Reverend Louis Rosen of the Tifereth Israel Synagogue.

Refreshments were served in the beautifully decorated dining room by the Jewish Ladies Relief Society, headed by Mrs. S. Broida. Arrangements for the celebration were in charge of a committee with Jacob Safier as chairman.

Many out-of-town visitors were present from Pittsburgh, Butler, Youngstown, Sharon and Ellwood City.

Nothing is Just as Good as the "Red Star"

Many competitive salesmen pay us compliments when they say that their Oil Stove is as good as the "Red Star." They recognize the leadership of the "Red Star" and can only hope that their's is "nearly as good." Remember the "Red Star" gives you the best results known to oil stoves—it has no wicks, no rings, no odor, no fumes and as the oil is NOT UNDER PRESSURE there is no danger.

Time-Saving Way of Tinting
(Copyright 1927)

For perfect tinting of dainty underwear, dresses, etc., the easiest way—and by far the best way—is the use of real dye. It tints in cold water, you know; just dip the garment and it takes whatever tinge you wish to give it. A matter of minutes.

Real dyes will get such smooth and even tones as shame the streaky, wishy-washy work of synthetic preparations for the purpose! Diamond dye in original powder form is only fifteen cents at the drugstore. Do your own diluting. Then dip to tint—and you'll have an effect that's beautiful. And if you want the tint permanent, just use boiling water!

Diamond dyes do a perfect, "professional" job of dyeing, too; the druggist has sample shades and simple directions. For a book of endless suggestions, in full color, request a free copy of Color Craft of DIAMOND DYES, Dept. N32, Burlington, Vermont.

The company has been engaged in improving its transmission lines in the Beaver county regions. Much of this work is still in progress of completion.

(International News Service)

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., May 24.— Dessie Holland, 16, injured in the headon collision of an automobile and street car here over the week end, died in a hospital today from the effects of burns received when the car caught fire. Joseph H. Birhimer, driver, was burned to death.

Y Midgets Have Good Time Monday

Although the hike for the Y. M. C. A. midgets was called off Monday because of the rain the boys enjoyed themselves at a party in the association building. It has been planned for the boys to take a hike along the Neshannock as far as Crystal Springs where they would play ball and hold a "regular feed." As it turned out, 50 boys enjoyed a swim in the Y pool after which they had all of the hotdogs, buns, beans and marshmellows they could eat.

Walter Kirker gave a short talk on the plans for camp this summer following which the boys called it a day and adjourned to their homes.

That "Kruschen Feeling"

Grandpa says: "It's the little daily dose that does it."

To keep feeling cheerful and fine all the time, take two tablets of Kruschen Salts in your cup of coffee or tea every morning—tasteless that way—or if you prefer, take them in a glass of hot water.

They keep the internal eliminating organs in splendid condition all the time.

Boys Joining Ranks For Y. M. C. A. Camp

Over 60 Boys Already Enrolled; Look Forward To Many Pastimes

Y. M. C. A. camp, July 5 to August 2, and it won't be long now until the boys will be playing ball on one of the two first class fields, swimming in the best "hole" for boys in the state, playing volley-ball on one of the two courts, or just having a good time for one month. Some 30 midgets and over 30 older boys have joined the ranks for camp already.

All of you boys who intend to go to camp this year should register as soon as possible or some of you will be too late. The camp will hold just so many and most of the other members of the boys classes are as anxious to attend as you are.

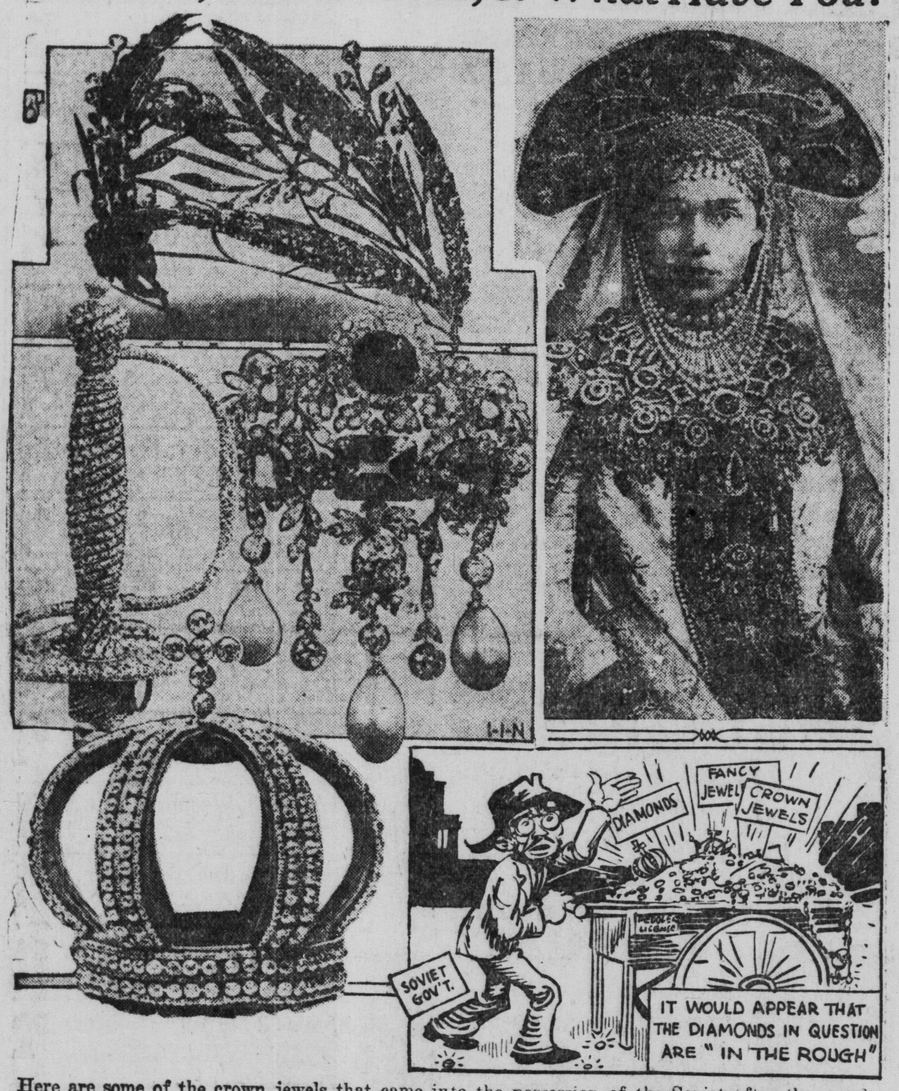
Radio photo of Captain Charles A. Lindberbergh, New York-Paris flyer, being felicitated by United States Ambassador Myron T. Herrick in Paris. This picture was flown by plane from Paris to London, sent by radio across the ocean to New York, then transmitted by telephotograph to Central Press, and rushed by fastest mails.

Will Trade: Crown Jewels for Tractors, Radios, Locomotives, or What Have You?



Here are some of the crown jewels that came into the possession of the Soviet after the murder of the czar, and which the Russians would now gladly trade for more useful things, but can't because the gems are just too expensive for anyone. Photographed are a diamond tiara, a court sword, a brooch of diamonds and emeralds and the royal nuptial crown. At right is the Grand Duchess Xenia in court robes, showing her lavish display at court, typical of the era in which the crown jewels were collected.

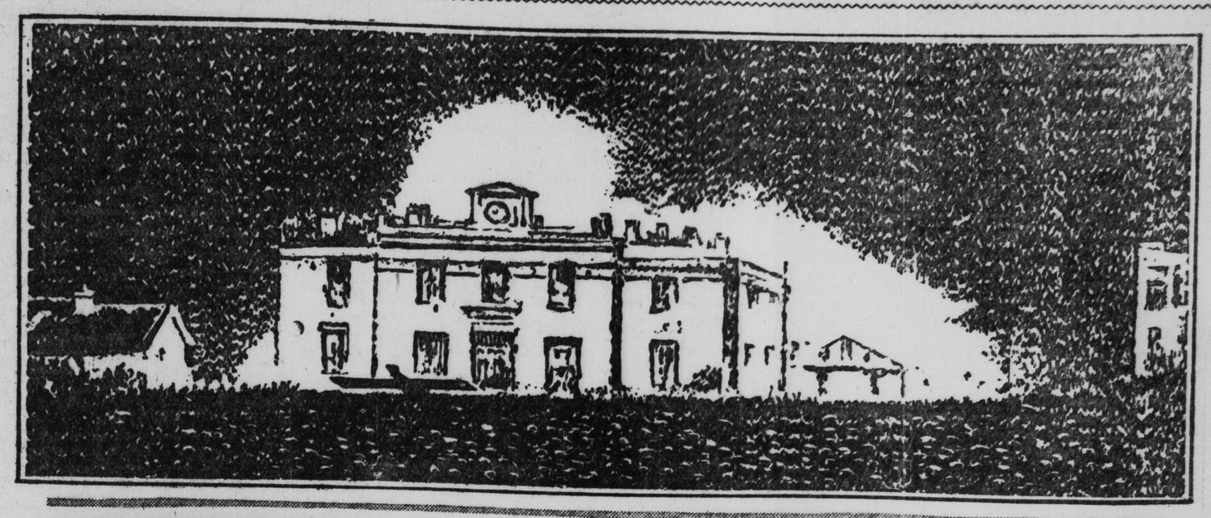
College Triplets

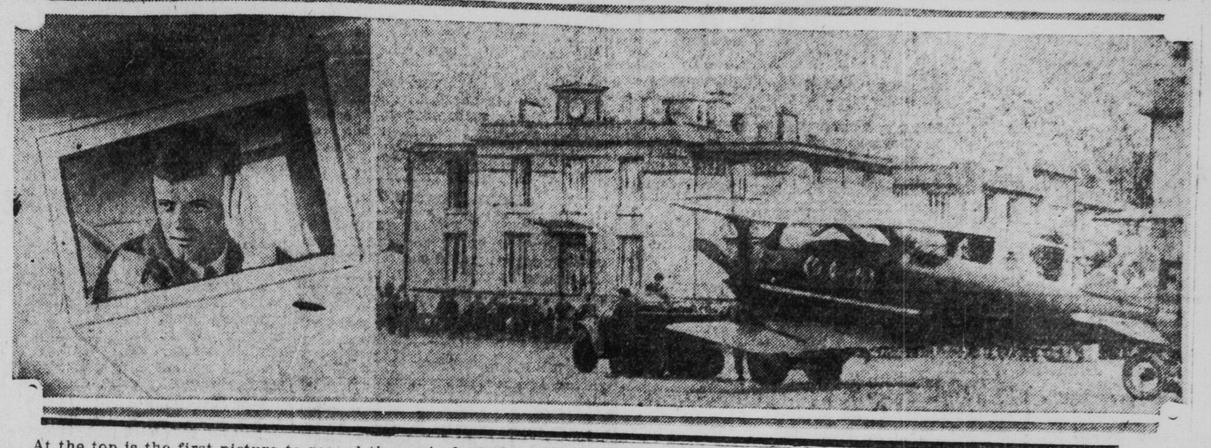
For the first time since the founding of the University of Michigan, at Ann Arbor, in 1837, a set of triplets will be graduated from that institution, when three members of the Guffey family of McKeesport, Pa., receive their diplomas in June. They are Lawrey, top, William, center, and James, below. The young men were born April 24, 1905, and have been together throughout their lives. They plan to enter medical school and practice together upon completion of their course. Their father is a physician.

Oil "Dictator"

Ray H. Collins, appointed "dictator" by oil producers of the oil situation in the Seminole area to attempt to agree on plans to cut the flow, has met with opposition from several of the companies.

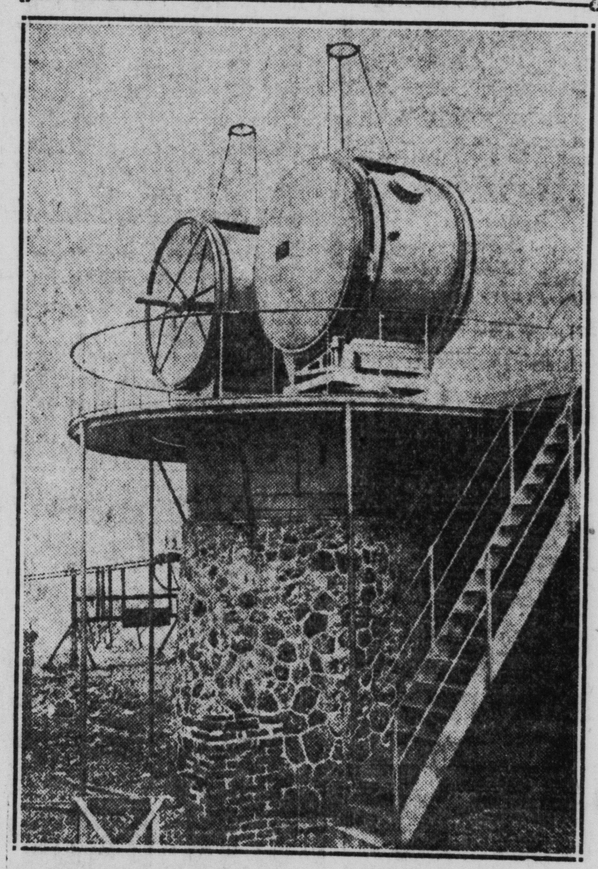
First Picture: Lindbergh Arrives In Paris!





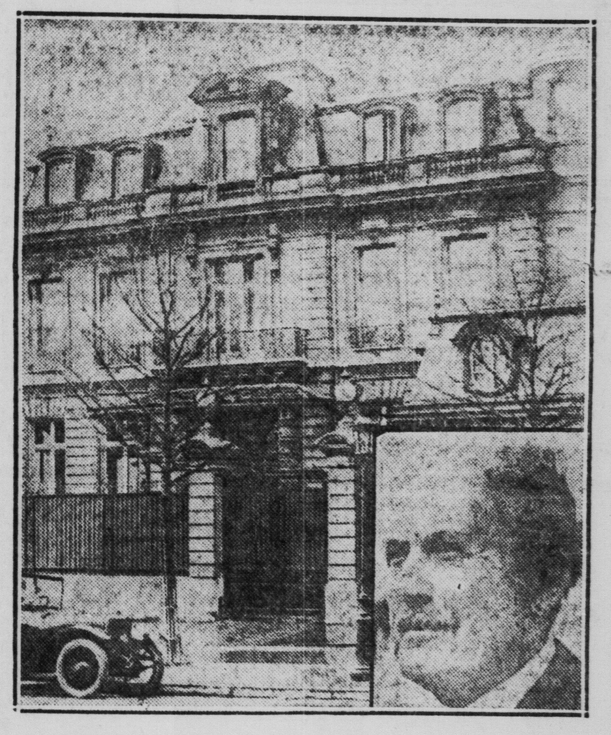
At the top is the first picture to record the arrival of Charles Lindbergh in Paris. It was carried by plane to London, radioed to New York and sent here by fast train. It shows the hotel at Le Bourget aerdrome, bathed by searchlight and surrounded by a milling crowd fighting to glimpse the American aviator. His plane may be seen silouetted against the building. Below are shown Lindbergh shortly before he took off and a day-light picture of the hotel a few days before Lindbergh arrived. The plane in the latter picture is a Beriot-Spade, one of those that went up to greet him. (International Newsreel.)

GUIDED LINDBERGH TO SAFETY



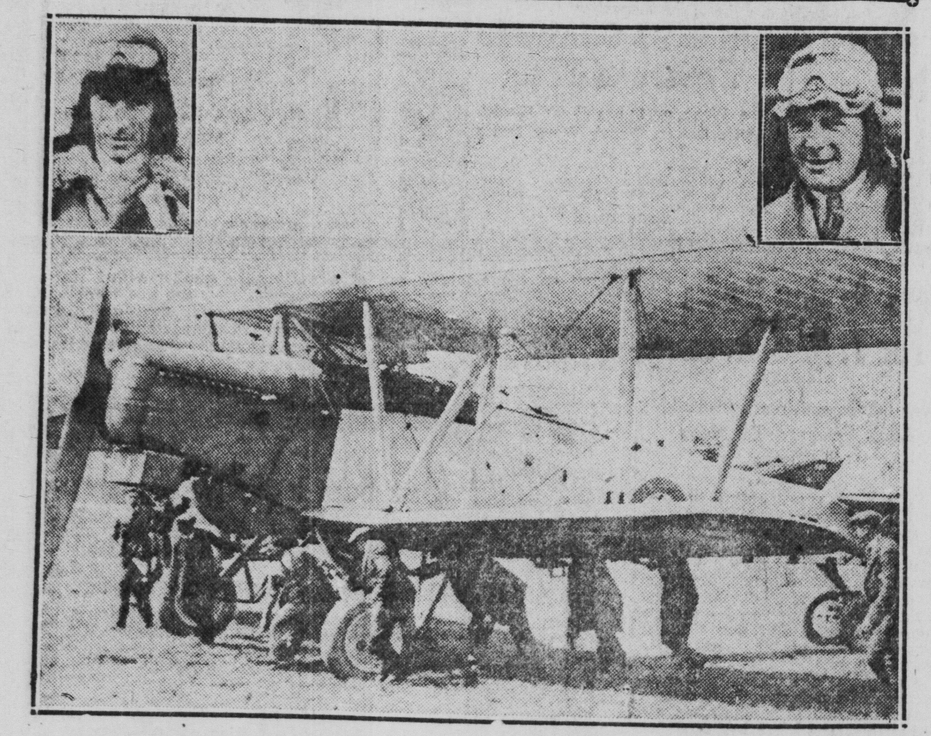
These are the twin lights of Mount Valerien, France, which Captain Charles A. Lindbergh says guided him to his haven in France on his non-stop flight across the ocean. These lights, which can be seen for a great distance at sea, are described as being of approximately one billion candlepower apiece.

LINDBERGH'S ABODE IN PARIS



Although in France, Captain Charles A. Lindbergh, non-stop flight hero, has been sleeping on "American soil" in Paris, for he has been the guest of Ambassador Myron T. Herrick (inset) at the United States' embassy, pictured above. Arriving in Paris virtually exhausted from his phenomenal air voyage, the young man was rushed to the embassy, outfitted in a suit of the ambassador's pajamas and permitted to sleep without interruption for hours and hours, while photographers and newspapermen waited and waited. Once more awake, Lindbergh had to borrow a suit from the embassy footman, for the flyer had brought no wardrobe with him in the "Spirit of St. Louis." He then learned that the entire city was bedecked with American flags in his honor and one large room of the embassy was stacked deep with flowers.

INDIA FLYERS SAVED AS PLANE IS WRECKED



Forced to alight in the Persian gulf 45 miles east of Abbas in their Hawker-Horsley plane, pictured above, in which they were attempting a 40-hour non-stop flight over the 4,000 miles from Brooklands, England, to Calcutta, India, Lieutenants C. R. Carr and L. S. M. Gillman, left and right insets, of England, have been rescued by a ship. They had flown 3,400 miles.

WHIPPETS WIN DOG VS. GIRL FEATURE

A man can outrun a horse under given conditions, but a whippet can beat a girl in the dashes. Two of the dogs were matched against Julia Aman and Julia Olmstead at the whippet derby in Washington. Only the fleetest girl was in the picture at the finish.

Then and Now

Clark Griffith, for lo, these last fifteen years or so, has been the push behind the Senators. He came as manager, but now he's president. Griffith broke into baseball years before he came to Washington, having been the pitching manager of the White Sox, manager of the first New York Yankee team, and manager of the Cincy Reds. Pictures show him as "Old Fox" Griffith and Mr. Griffith.

M. H. And L. Company Sends Commendation Of Expansion Plans

In a letter just received by Fred L. Rentz, president of the Chamber of Commerce, George W. Ratcliffe, president of the Manufacturers Light and Heat Company, expresses the congratulations of his concern upon the type of organization now represented by the Chamber of Commerce of this city. Mr. Ratcliffe states that his company recognizes its responsibility to this community as one of its business institutions and pledges its co-operation in making its service as satisfactory as possible.

The letter follows:

Pittsburgh, Pa., May 20, 1927.

Mr. Fred L. Rentz, President
Chamber of Commerce
New Castle, Pa.

My Dear Mr. Rentz:

We would like to take this opportunity of extending, through you, to the citizens of New Castle, our congratulations upon the type or organization represented in the Chamber of Commerce, and the splendid results developing in its present expansion movement.

Recognizing our responsibilities as one of the business institutions of the community, we want you to know our appreciation and heartiest co-operation in the making of our service as satisfactory as is possible.

We are at this time spending a very considerable sum of money in the construction of additional pipe line facilities and their rearrangements, so that we may be in shape to care for such business as is available in the community.

It may also be of interest to you to know, if you are not already informed in this connection, that the present office building of The Manufacturers Light & Heat Company is being remodeled for the installation of an appliance department, and plans are being perfected for a more careful and thorough servicing of consumers' appliances already in use, and those which later may be adopted.

We would appreciate your keeping us advised of such occasions as may arise, indicating wherein we might effect an improvement in the natural gas service.

Again assuring you of our desire to make this service as satisfactory as is possible, we are

Yours very truly,
GEORGE W. RATCLIFFE.

WHEN POPULARITY INCREASES

One feature that shows the remarkable value of World's Tonic is the steadily increasing sale in New Castle. Introduced here many months ago, sales today are greater than ever before.

That fact proves that the people who use World's Tonic are greatly benefitted. In no other way can it be accounted for. One man uses it, gets back his health, and tells his neighbor. The neighbor goes thru the same experience and he tells others.

You Needn't Wait

But it isn't necessary for you to wait for somebody to tell you. If you are all run down, if work is a burden and pleasure is not found in it, if you are tired out, if catarrh is undermining your strength—then you need World's Tonic. Don't wait to use it until you are sick in bed. Build up your strength now—get well and stay well!

World's Tonic is sold by McKee's, Eckerd's, Paisley's, Smith's and all other enterprising druggists.

The sale of World's Tonic today is better than it has ever been. I am sure if you could hear the good things people say about it you would be much pleased. We never handled anything that gave greater satisfaction to our trade.

Blast Blows Home Of Dry Enforcer, Occupants Escape

STEUBENVILLE, O., May 24.—The home of James Pilney, local prohibition enforcement officer, in Dillonvale, was wrecked by dynamite yesterday. Seven persons in the house, including Pilney, his wife, three children, and two other men, escaped unhurt.

The blast was set off in the foundation and blew out the entire side of the house, and broke ... dows within a radius of two blocks.

It is believed the explosive was placed by men who held an old feud against Pilney. Recently he had not been active in raids, his jurisdiction having been limited by a decision of the Ohio Supreme Court against enforcement officers working in magistrates' courts.

A wearing surface is important

Cross-section of a Barrett Specification Roof. Note the uniform distribution of pitch between the layers of felt.

BUILDERS, engineers and architects are fully alive to the importance of the slag or gravel "wearing surface for flat roofs." And for these good reasons:—

1—The slag or gravel surface makes it possible to use a much greater amount of waterproofing material than could otherwise be applied.

2—It protects against surface wear.

3—It provides sure protection against flying sparks and embers.

This "wearing surface" is one reason why Barrett Specification Roofs carry a Surety Bond, guaranteeing the owner against maintenance and repair expense for 20 years—why these roofs take the base rate of fire insurance.

Kindgarten For Pre-School Child Of Ellwood City

Committee To Take Census Of Interested Parents This Summer

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., May 24.—That the kindergarten be carried on this year the same as last was agreed by the executive committee of the Parent-Teachers' Association of Ellwood City, last evening, provided that enough parents can be interested to pay for the venture.

The meeting took place in the Lincoln school, and was composed of the executive committee of last year headed by Mrs. A. G. Paetzel, ex-president, and that of the present year, headed by W. W. Golden, president.

The kindergarten of last year was a decided success and much enthusiasm over the idea has been shown by the parents of the children as well as by the children themselves.

At several open sessions of the school, the mothers of the children were invited and the adults expressed much surprise at the clay-molding, painting, and practical work, that the tots had accomplished under the supervision of Miss Queen Wilson.

There were 32 pupils last year and this committee will strive for 50 this year, as the kindergarten has to be self-supporting.

A committee of which Mrs. Robert Barlow will be chairman, will take the census of mothers interested in the venture and upon the number interested will depend whether or not the work shall be taken up again.

Miss Wilson was re-elected for another year and her salary will be increased $100.

As the kindergarten was popular with parents, there is little doubt that it will be carried on again.

Those parents at the meeting last evening were:—W. W. Golden, president, Mrs. Robert Barlow, chairman of the kindergarten committee, Mrs. A. G. Paetzel, retiring president, Prof. Ray Smith, Dwight Conner, Mr. and Mrs. George Young, Mr. and Mrs. George Davidson, Miss Reynolds, Miss Lola Asher, Miss Alberta McDanel.

PETERS ADVENTURES IN ANIMAL LAND

By Florence Smith Vincent

WHY FOX FINDS NOBODY AT HOME.

There was no use in beating about the bush. Cutie Fox had made up his mind that the Boy knew something that he himself did not, and he was going to find out what it was if it took one of his eyebrows. The boy saw that by the look in the creature's eye and he decided not to act as though he were afraid but to tell the whole story.

"I haven't told you because you haven't asked me," said he. "You are a great talker Fox a wonderful talker, and I like nothing better than to listen to you. Why should I spoil one of your good stories by trying to tell you one of my own?"

Wise little Two-Legs, Peter had not been a guest of the little folk of the meadow and sky for nothing. He had learned that if he wanted to keep one of his friends in good humor all he had to do was to flatter him. Cutie Fox cocked his head up on one side and smoothed out his bushy tail. Seeing the effect of his words, the Boy continued:

"Now you mention it, though I remember all that happened while you were on the other side of the field. You see I got tired waiting for you to make the round of the meadow and so I started out to help you. This was the very first clump I came to—and the last. For I found a bird's nest that turned out to be no bird's nest at all, but the Field Mice house!" The Boy stoped for breath and Fox began to comb out his coat.

"Yes, yes; what happened next?" asked he, but it didn't seem to the Boy that Cutie was half as interested in the story as in his own fuzzy fur.

"I started to pull off the roof of the house and Mrs. Field Mouse made me stop. Say, Cutie, you ought to have seen how mad she was. But when I told her it was she I was looking for and why, and warned her of Weasel she carried off the children."

"Where to?" asked Fox Slyly.

"I don't know,' answered the boy, and he spoke the truth. He didn't. Mother Field Mouse hadn't told him.

"Did you tell her I was coming?" asked Fox lazily.

"Yes," admitted the boy.

"Then that is why she was in such a hurry to be off," chuckled Fox. "Mother Field Mouse doesn't trust anyone. Don't blame her—she is such a little thing and she has so much on her mind—there are always so many children for her to look out for. I will say she does the best she can with such a large family and Mr. Mouse out all the time enjoying life in the meadows with his gay bachelor friends. But whether I warned them or whether I didn't you did and Weasel is going to be fooled. That is all that maters. Come on now, let's get away from here before Ferret Nose appears. He'll be furious. Take my advice—never get in that fellow's way when he's mad."

Next: "Towser Makes a False Friend."

WORLD'S CHAMPS DEFEAT NEW CASTLE

Exhibition Game Here Ends 6 To 1

St. Louis Cardinals, With Frisch Center Of Attraction, Show Form Here

Dyer Limits New Castle To Four Hits; Thousand Fans Witness Game

By "BUGS" WALTHER

World's Champions in every sense of the word the St. Louis Cardinals demonstrated to some thousand New Castle baseball fans, on Monday afternoon at Centennial Park, the art of playing the game as displayed in the John A. Heydler circuit. The Red Birds conquered New Castle's O. & P. league team 6 to 1.

The St. Louis team had an open date in their hop from Boston to Chicago and obliged the local management by dropping off here yesterday on their way to the Windy City. Manager "Bob" O'Farrell did not appear here with the Cardinals, the peppery manager stopping in Rochester, New York to have his arm treated. Alexander, Snyder, Lester Bell and "Billy" Southworth were all missing from the scene yesterday, but the remainder of the lineup that socked the Yankee clan into oblivion, last fall, cavorted at the local ball orchard.

Centennial Field was quite damp from intermittent showers, and baseball playing was almost out of the question, but a thousand or so fans had eagerly waited for the Cardinals to appear.

Acting Manager Alan Sothoron, a former big league pitcher, sent Eddie Dyer, rookie moundsman to the box for the Missouri outfit and Eddie responded with a fine array of curves and speed that baffled the locals at every turn. Dyer permitted but four hits, one of them being a double by Manager "Molly" Meis.

Field is Muddy

Despite the terrible condition of the field, but two errors were chalked up, with the catcher on both clubs having the misplay. Chambers, a rookie backstop with the Cardinals fumbled a ball dumped in front of the plate by Bryan, and Bryan in one of the early innings threw wild to third base to catch a runner. In the field the boys played errorless ball.

St. Louis got to Meis in the third inning for four hits and four runs, and tallied another pair of runs in the fifth chapter. With a six run advantage Acting Manager Sothoron replaced Frisch, Hafey and Bottomley with reserves. Victor Keen, former Cubs pitcher and "Biddy" Chambers a rookie catcher also found their way into the lineup for the Champions.

New Castle tallied their run in the eighth frame. Bryan was safe at first when Chambers foozled his grounder along the first base line. Meis and Miller were easy outs on infield taps with Bryan going to third. Lawrence drove a single to left field and Bryan raced home.

Meis pitched a steady game for New Castle allowing the big league boys but ten hits and fanning two men. Dyer had four strikeouts. Both pitchers had plenty to do in way of fielding with Dyer tossing out nine New Castle players, and Meis tossing out eight of the Cardinals on easy taps to the box.

Frisch Gets Ovation

Frankie Frisch the Fordham flash and former New York Giant second-sacker received a big hand from the fans as he appeared at the plate in the first inning. Frisch responded with an easy tap to Meis. Tommy Thevenow was the center of attraction for the local fans. Thevenow is rated as the best short stop in the big show today with the possible exception of Glenn Wright. Thevenow doubled and scored a run.

The St. Louis team was a little late in arriving at the ball park due to the fact that their equipment failed to reach New Castle until 4:30 o'clock. The game was played in remarkable time, once it got started.

The Cardinals pulled out of New Castle last night at 7:48 o'clock bound for Chicago, where they open up a three game series with the Bruin's today. Tomorrow the Cardinals will engage the McCarthy clan in a double-bill.

New Castle will oppose Canton

SORDS POINTS

440 Yards and No "Quarter"

By NORMAN E. BROWN

Jimmy Burgess, captain of Georgetown's always formidable track team and its star quarter-miler, hopes to emerge from the coming intercollegiate track and field meet at Philadelphia May 27-28 as champion at that distance by virtue of a victory over Cecil Cooke.

Cooke, great colored runner of Syracuse University, won the championship over the quarter last year. He is ranked as one of the greatest men at the distance in the game. Burgess' ambition, therefore, is a large one.

The Georgetown star, in addition to running the quarter alone, is anchor man and star of the mile relay team which has scored heavily in the past indoor season and aided in the brilliant fight Georgetown made in the intercollegiate last year to retain the title won in 1925.

The Georgetown relay four were forced, however, to take the dust of the Syracuse relay outfit in the Penn relay games May 1. Cooke led the Syracuse four and Burgess of the Georgetown quartet.

While Burgess strives to land the quarter crown for Georgetown another "G" star, William Dowding, will be defending the title he won in last year's meet in the broad jump. Theodore Mathias of Penn State, who finished second to Dowding last year, hopes to nose him out in the coming meet.

That Dowding will face keen competition is indicated by the fact that three broad jumpers at least among the Pacific Coast entries in the intercollegiate, have outdistanced him in recent meets. Sidney Meeks of Stanford has done 23 ft. 10⅝ inches. Kimball Dyer has done 24 ft. 3⅜ inches and Zombro, a sophomore, boasts of a 24-foot mark. Dowding's mark last year was but 23 ft. 1½ inches.

SPORTS DONE BROWN

By NORMAN E. BROWN

The fact that the Washington Senators, while ranking around seventh in batting, are leading the American League in base stealing, is of more than passing interest. Led by Goslin and Judge, the Senators are running wilder on the bases than any of their opponents.

The Detroit Tigers, aided by their powerful batting and the consequent advantage in the number of base runners placed in a position to steal, run far behind the Washington club in this department. This despite the fact that Moriarty, new Tiger pilot, has been concentrating on speeding up his hitters on the paths.

The failure of Tris Speaker to show his old speed on the paths is also an interesting angle of the situation. Once feared the moment he got on base, the Texas Eagle seems to hold no fear for the pitchers these days. His hitting has fallen off enough to kill some of the terror he once carried to the plate with him.

George Godfrey, giant colored fighter, may break into the New York heavyweight tea party before the summer ends. He has scored seven knockouts in a row on the Pacific coast and reports of his fights indicate that he has added considerable skill to his tremendous hitting ability—his only asset in the East a couple of years ago.

In discussing pro and con the decline of civilization, just how much stress should be placed upon the fact that there are now something like 208 public golf courses in this otherwise fair land of ours.

Estimate the growth in cussing, the number of unhappy homes, golf widows and neglected business since the game has developed from a "rich man's sport" to one of the major branches of athletics.

On the other hand, consider the number of mantels decorated with "president's cups", blind bogie trophies, handicap play prizes and interclub ash trays.

To say nothing of the recreation, fresh air and good fellowship the game has brought.

Much attention was directed toward Tony Lazzeri, the walloping youngster who guards second for the Yanks, because of his spotless fielding over a continued stretch. Similar credit must be given Partridge, Dodger infielder, who recently booted one after accepting 92 chances over a span of 16 games without messing one.

Partridge, who answers to the first name of Jay, was unearthed by the famous old leftie, Nap Rucker, while the young man was laboring for Nashville in the Southern Association last summer. It took only Rucker's word to convince the Dodgers that Partridge was of big league caliber. Before the spring training season had ended last March the Brooklyn boss, Uncle Robbie, had decided that he would bank on Partridge for second and pass Chick Fewster back to the minors.

Tunney Says Jack Sharkey Will Be His Next Opponent

Champion Believes Sharkey Smarter Than Jack Dempsey And Looks For Hard Bout

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, May 24. — Gene Tunney, who plans to leave within a few days for his traning camp at Speculator, N. Y., believes that his next opponent will be Jack Sharkey, the Boston heavyweight who knocked out Jimmy Maloney here last Friday.

"Sharkey is the man I will meet next September," the champion said during a discussion of promoter Tex Rickard's plans. "I see where Jack Dempsey picks Sharkey to beat me. Well, I think that Sharkey is immeasurably smarter than Dempsey.

Canton To Play Here Wednesday

New Castle And Canton Meet Wednesday Night At 6 O'Clock In League Game.

JAMIESON TO TAKE MOUND FOR LOCALS

Mark Jamieson the big Ellwood City boy who pitched a three hit game against the Erie Sailors here last Saturday, will take the mound assignment tomorrow night against the Canton team. The Canton-New Castle battle is scheduled for six o'clock at Centennial Field.

Manager Meis was very well pleased with the brand of baseball shown by Jamieson in his three-hit affair last week and will send the big boy back again tomorrow. Jamieson is rarin' to get back in the box, and is full of confidence.

The Canton boys on their last trip to this city defeated the local leaguers 8 to 6. New Castle will seek a little revenge tomorrow night. New Castle hopes to climb out of the second division in the O. & P. league before the close of the first half of play. The locals have a mighty fine looking team at the present time, and they should win a lot of games. The infield with the addition of Brehanney, Maxim and Lawrence looks better than any combination seen on the left side of the field here for many years. Swartz at first-base is putting up a fine game, and is a fielder of the highest type. The New Castle outfield could not be improved upon is the general opinion.

Pirates Defeat Cincinnati Reds

Reds Use Three Hurlers, But Fail To Stem Pirates' Attack

MORRISON HURLS FIRST FULL GAME

CINCINNATI, May 24.—The Pirates retained their grip on first place by taking an eight to five game from Cincinnati yesterday and incidentally Johnny Morrison went the full route for the first time this year. He was hit 12 times by the Reds but Carl May was relieved by Kolp who gave way to Rixey.

The Reds got the bulge on the Pirates in the second when Dressen tripled and scored on Walker's out but what the Pirates done to the Reds in the first of the second was a shame. They battered the ball around the lot and chalked up five runs. The Reds staged a whirlagig in their half and annexed three more runs.

With Kolp pitching Traynor scored and Traynor scored Wright in the fourth. In the sixth Wright scored on Traynor's single, and Rixey relieved Kolp. This run ended the Pirate attack for the day which seemed to have had more than enough strength to romp away with the game.

His Might Is Left — By Feg Murray

Will Robert Moses Grove lead the Philadelphia Athletics out of the Wilderness in which the White Elephants have roamed for the past twelve years, and personally conduct them into the Promised Land where wâves the American League pennant?

Besides the appropriate middle name of Moses, Bob Grove, has something else quite adaptable to leading Connie Mack's "Antiques" to the top of the American League, the same being his good leff arm, perhaps the most remarkable left arm in the business of professional baseball. That long, lanky arm of Grove's can hurl a baseball with more speed than Walter Johnson can today—and many say that Sir Walter in his prime never threw them as fast as the Philadelphia southpaw. Old timers are even rating Grove as the best left-hander since the Immortal Rube Waddell, which is the highest degree of praise.

Watching Connie's left-hander work in the opening game of the season against the Yankees at the Stadium, I could not help but marvel at the smooth-flowing motion with which Bob propelled that little white ball towards the plate. And talk about speed! Zowie! The sphere whizzed by the batter like a streak of lightning, and on at least two occasions Catcher Gordon Cochrane was literally "uprooted" from the ground and dragged backwards by the speed of Grove's pitches.

Then the tall southpaw had a cross-fire that started about half way between the pitcher's box and first base, and seemed to be aiming towards the Yankees' dugout. For a while he was absolutely invincible.

Grove is about due to crash into real greatness this season. He won ten games and lost twelve in 1925, broke even last year with thirteen wins and thirteen losses, and now wants to turn in a record like the one he compiled during his years with the Baltimore Orioles, which caused Connie Mack to buy him from Jack Dunn for the record price of $105,000.

Feg Murray Says—

Cruel and unusual punishment: Teacher—"Now, Willie, if you aren't good, I'll make you stay after school and learn the names of all of Paulino's managers."

National League Race Proving Close Affair

Pirates, Cubs And Giants Showing Way To Other Clubs

Giants Suffer Four Straight Defeats And Drop To Third Place

BY DAVIS J. WALSH
Sports Editor International News Service

NEW YORK, May 24.—Big time baseball settled down again today to its neighborhood backfence bickering of a strictly sectional nature with the conclusion of the season's first east versus west meetings. It also might be mentioned that some of our severest critics have settled down to take another guess of the National league race.

"The Giants are in," they said a week ago. The McGraw entry had knocked over the Cardinals and Reds at that juncture and all was sweet, young girlish laughter in the lee of Coogan's bluff. The Giants were riding the lead then but the Pirates and Cubs came with a rush in the last week of the western invasion, the former taking the Giants for four straights while the Cubs turned in the same performance against the Dodgers.

In consequence the Giants are in third place today and they may go no higher very rapidly unless they get some major league catching soon.

The fact of the matter is that the west showed just enough in the intersectional games to indicate that neither race is "in," although the Yankee record of ten out of thirteen on the road indicates just how badly the rest of the American league field is at this early date. The performance, at that, merely helped the east to make the decision close, for even with the Yank's record, the best it could do was to win and lose twenty five games in the west. Meanwhile, the western clubs of the National League had won twenty six and lose nineteen in the east.

Cubs Advance

Far and away the best intersectional record of any of the sixteen clubs went to the Chicago Cubs, who beat the much improved Dodgers four straight after engaging in two lengthy victories over the Braves. Sooner or later, the boys will begin to take the Cubs seriously and, if eventually, why not now? They are up there and may stay.

The Cubs record of nine out of twelve was only a trifle better than that of the Pirates, who won seven out of ten after an indifferent start. They could do no better than play .500 baseball with the Phils, Dodgers and Braves but they were coming in the Brooklyn series and arrived when they reached the Polo grounds.

The Giants had won six out of eight from the other western clubs and thought they were set with their pitchers at last. Their debacle reduced their percentage against their western clubs to an even .500 and, if they had had to do it all over again, it might have been worse. That's holes in them Giants, pardner!

Cardinal pitching, of course, could hardly hope to continue its early pace and when it fell off a bit the hitting went with it and so did the Cards. They won four out of six from the Dodgers and Braves, lost their series to the Giants and then went on a hitting strike in Philadelphia. As a result, the Cards, who started the invasion in first place, are now fourth. They won only five out of eleven on the road. The Reds came back nicely against the Phils and Braves, after dropping six straight to the Giants and Dodgers.

There was nothing to the American league's east-west meetings except the Yankees. However, they can't step like that indefinitely and the west served out due notice of its future intentions as three of its four clubs got better than an even break on the invasion, in spite of the Yanks' clean up. The White Sox moved from third to second place by winning seven out of thirteen; the Browns went from sixth to third with eight out of fourteen, after losing four straight to New York, and the Indians came strong at the end to win six out of eleven and rise from seventh to sixth.

The Tigers, winning only four out of twelve played and the Athletics, taking six out of fifteen, were the monumental flops. The latter, barring Rommel's last game in the west, are getting terrible pitching while the Tigers lack consistency in all or several departments, yet they are the clubs most likely to take issue sooner or later with the Yanks, if issue is to be taken.

The Metropolitan Handicap which features the Spring meeting at Belmont Park was inaugurated in 1891.

Teams Practice For Flood Game

Logan Wants Ritty, McConaghy, Faella And Hilliers In Uniform

STEINER INTENDS TO PITCH FOR POLICE

Rain apparently is playing an accompaniment to the Police-Garbage Department baseball game for the benefit of the flood sufferers, and the game will be staged Friday afternoon at Centennial field if the mud is a foot deep and J. Pluv' shoots his water pellets all over the field.

Jimmie Steiner is sincere in his determination to pitch against Johnny Waters and told his police mates last night: "If I can't beat those colored boys with my 'soup bone' I'll never pitch again", which leads to the likelihood that Jimmie made a statement that may or may not affect his future in baseball.

Harry Flinner, the big East Side policeman, apparently is romping away with the honors at bat. In recent practice tilts he has knocked the ball out of the lot. Seeing him put the ball over the fence, Buckner, catcher for the Garbage team, remarked: "Dat boy, umpf! Dat boy's no policeman. He's a Babe Ruth".

Les Harper says there is a concerted effort and alleges the writer is a participant thereof, to "run him off the team. Harper says: "My size won't hold me back when I get on the paths. I'll surprise some of you fellows with my speed". If Les gets on the bases of his own accord everybody will be surprised.

Logan Advises Steiner

Ducky Samuels hopes that every ball poled is knocked to third base. "There'll be none get by me", he declares, while Ray Thompson is tinkering with a chest protector so that it will be in good shape when he goes behind the bat. Sir Ray believes in forewarned is forearmed.

Howard Phillips, boss of the department of garbage, hotly denies the insinuation that he has imported several fast colored boys to play on the team. "It isn't necessary to beat such a team as the police have", he said.

C. G. Logan, city detective, says that the team is being mismanaged. He claims that there should be trickery used. For instance, C. G. L. says: "Steiner should put Ritty, McConaghy, Faella, Hilliers, myself and some other old-timers in a uniform.

"We should be sent into the field for practice and when the umpires call the game Steiner could do like Knute Rockne and run the first team into the field". It is sincerely hoped that Jimmie Steiner adopts this advice. If he does the stands won't hold the crowds. Personally we'd like to see those heavyweights in a uniform.

WESTMINSTER TENNIS TEAM MEETS GENEVA

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., May 24—Westminster's tennis team will attempt to hurdle the third Tri-State Conference barrier of the season Wednesday afternoon when Geneva is played at Beaver Falls.

Westminsterites were not in the least disappointed by the showing of the team against Pitt last Saturday. The Pittites have a veteran squad and a Panther victory was expected.

Thus far Westminster has won two Conference tennis matches having defeated Duquesne University and Bethany. If the Blue and White emerges the winner over Geneva, it is thought that the championship will be won.

According to a Conference agreement, five singles matches and two doubles will be on the card at Geneva. William Clark of New Wilmington, William Schaffer of Youngstown, Captain Francis McDowell of Jamestown, Paul Gibson of New Kensington, and Dick Robinson of Massillon, O., will participate in the singles in the order named. Clark and Schaffer will pair off in the doubles as will McDowell and Gibson.

Westminster team will make its next home appearance June 6, when Duquesne comes here. June 8, a match will be played with the Alumni.

Ruth And Gehrig Smash Out Homers

Ruth Crashes Out Eleventh Of Year; Gehrig Hits Tenth In Washington Game

WHITE SOX TOP BROWNS, 4 To 1

By LES CONKLIN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, May 24.—The duel between Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig, the Yankees' home run twins, is raging hotter than ever today, with the Bambino still one homer ahead. Gehrig hit his tenth against Washington yesterday, but the Babe remained in the lead by clouting No. 11. Thereafter, however, the Yanks folded up like a collapsible silk hat and lost, 3 to 2.

Ruth is now hitting 'em at the rate of one every three games, or 51 for the season.

Al Thomas of the White Sox chalked up his seventh victory of the season in beating the Browns, 4 to 1. He allowed but three hits and had twirled 25 scoreless innings when the Browns scored in the ninth.

Cleveland split a double bill with Detroit. The Indians took the opener, 9 to 4, scoring seven runs in the fifth inning when they knocked three pitchers out of the box. A single by Pinch Hitter Heilmann climaxed a five-run rally in the seventh inning of the nightcap, which enabled the Tigers to win, 7 to 5.

Four hits by Traynor featured as the Pirates outslugged the Reds, 8 to 5. Manager Hendricks, who has invented nearly a dozen infield combinations this season, tried another one by playing Pinelli at shortstop.

Jumbo Elliott, Brooklyn's 235-pound pachyderm, staged a nonstop flight from the pitcher's box to the clubhouse in the seventh inning as the Robins lost to the Phillies, 7 to 1. Clarence Mitchell, the venerable southpaw, spitballed the Robins to death.

The Giants, Braves, Cubs, Cardinals, Athletics and Red Sox were idle.

Hillsville And Edenburg Again Are Deadlocked

Fast Game At Hillsville Monday Night Results In 1-1 Deadlock

Hillsville and Edenburg the two leading teams in the New Castle Twilight league played a 1-1 tie game last night on the Hillsville grounds. The game was stopped in the ninth inning on account of a suden downpour of rain.

The game was played as a postponed affair from a previous attempt to determine the supremacy of the two clubs and the result last night was the same.

Hillsville scored their lone run in the second inning and Edenburg tallied in the third. The game was fast and hard fought with plenty of sensational fielding.

Augustine and Waters were the opposing pitchers with the former allowing but two hits and Waters dishing up four blows.

Giovanella played a bangup game at first base for Hillsville. Grist was the star batsman of the game with a pair of hits.

The game will have to be played over at a later date.

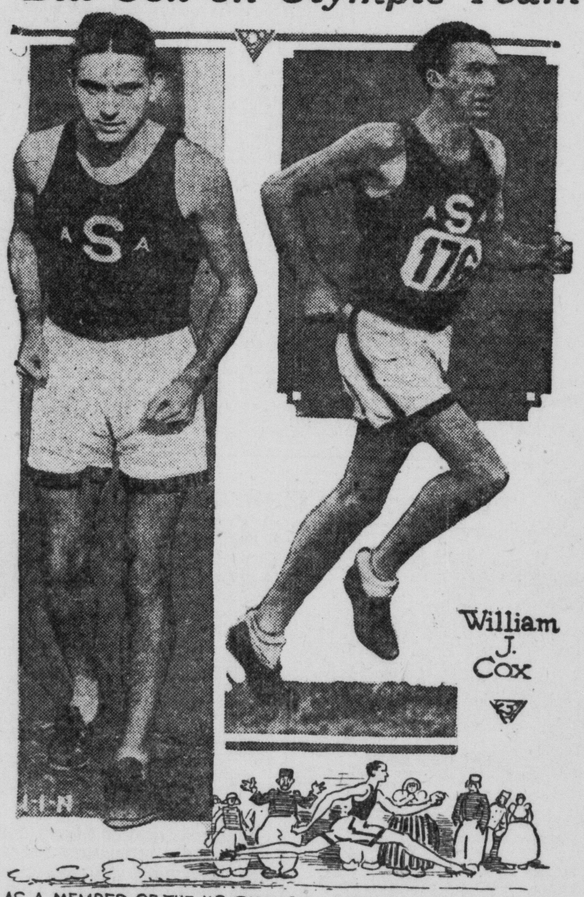
Work, and Lots of It, Puts Bill Cox on Olympic Team



AS A MEMBER OF THE U.S. OLYMPIC TEAM AT AMSTERDAM IN 1928 HE'S EXPECTED TO "BEAT THE DUTCH"— TO SAY NOTHING OF THE FINNS AND THE BRITISH AND THE REST!

Here are two studies of Bill Cox, of Penn State, the workingest middle-distance man in the country. His showing in the past six months seems to have reserved a ticket to the Olympic games in Amsterdam for him.

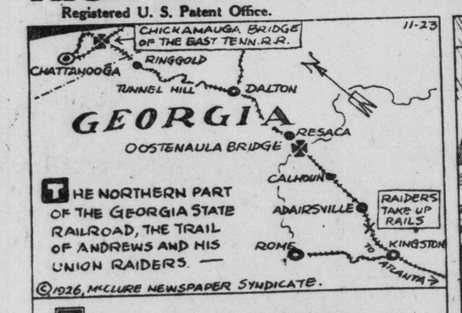
HIGH LIGHTS OF HISTORY

Registered U. S. Patent Office.

The Georgia Railroad Raid (Part Eight) by J. CARROLL MANSFIELD



THE NORTHERN PART OF THE GEORGIA STATE RAILROAD, THE TRAIL OF ANDREWS AND HIS UNION RAIDERS.

BEFORE LONG, THE PURSUING CONFEDERATES CAME IN SIGHT OF THE STOLEN TRAIN AND A DESPERATE RACE BEGAN. THE PURSUERS WERE UNABLE TO OVERTAKE THE RAIDERS ON THE ROAD, BUT TRIED TO KEEP CLOSE BEHIND, SO THAT THE FEDERALS WOULD NOT HAVE TIME TO STOP TO DAMAGE THE TRACK. AS THEY NEARED A LONG, COVERED TRESTLE SPANNING CHICKAMAUGA CREEK, WHICH OFFERED THEIR LAST CHANCE OF DOING SERIOUS DAMAGE TO THE LINE, THE RAIDERS SET AFIRE THE REMAINING BOX CAR, AND UNCOUPLED IT WHEN THE MIDDLE OF THE BRIDGE WAS REACHED. THEN THEY SPED AWAY TO THE NORTH, HOPING THEY WERE FREE FROM PURSUIT AT LAST.

JUST WHEN FORTUNE SEEMED TO SMILE UPON THE UNION BRIDGE-BURNERS, THE CONFEDERATES APPEARED. TAKING IN THE SITUATION AT A GLANCE, THE PURSUERS DROVE FORW

N. Y. STOCKS

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, May 24.—The speculative railroad stocks continued their spectacular forward movement in the early trading today. Speculators looking for a "second wheeling and Lake Erie" rushed in at the opening to buy Western Maryland, Chicago Great Western, common and preferred, Bangor and Aroostook and Pittsburgh and West Virginia, all of which were pushed forward rapidly to the highest prices of the year.

Rejection of the Southwestern Railroad consolidation project of L. F. Loree by the Interstate Commerce commission has strengthened the conviction of Wall Street that constructive measures will be taken to put through a number of mergers "in the public interest and on an acceptable basis to the federal authorities. For that reason the recent "flare" in a half a dozen or more railroad stocks is believed to represent buying of a restricted floating supply by eastern railroad magnates.

Bangor and Aroostook crossed par and sold up to 102, up near 60 points from the low of the year. Pittsburgh and West Virginia advanced 4 points to 173, completing a 51 point advance in less than two weeks. Western Maryland common and second preferred raced upward in a heavy turnover. Chicago Great Western preferred sold in volume above 40.

Lindbergh Not Convinced He Is World Hero

By HARRY R. FLORY
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PARIS, May 24—Finding France after a flight across the Atlantic ocean, guided only by an induction compass, was not much of a trick, according to the modest view of Captain Charles A. Lindbergh, who has amazed the whole world by his feat in accomplishing the first New York-to-Paris flight.

Lindbergh described his experiences today at a luncheon given him by the American Club in terms that indicated very plainly that he has not yet been convinced that he did anything very great.

"I am not a public speaker", apologized the courageous flier, when he was called upon to speak, and his confusion to finding himself on his feet addressing 500 guests was evident.

Lindbergh told of the details of the start of the flight and explained his "luck" in being able to escape the dangers of a sleet storm through which he passed.

"Considering that the coastline of France is several hundred miles long, we considered it pretty hard to miss it", he said, again using the pronoun 'we' to designate himself and his plane and once more showing his scorn for the more personal pronoun 'I'.

"There is no country we would rather have landed in than France", he said, with a grin.

Lindbergh explained that he traveled alone, not because he had any wish to shun company on the long voyage, but because he wanted to make distance and speed.

"We didn't take a second man because it would have shortened our cruising distance by 300 miles", he said.

At the conclusion of his very short speech Lindbergh apologized by saying, "I hope I haven't taken too much of your time."

A chorus of disappointed "ohs" went up when the flier concluded his all too brief words.

After a brief call at the ministry of marine this afternoon, Lindbergh hastened out to Le Bourget aerodrome, which is like a magnet to him. He was to be given a reception at Le Bourget by the 34th regiment, French air force.

Prior to leaving for Le Bourget he had time to scan some of the voluminous correspondence that had accumulated.

Lindbergh has lost none of his attractions for the Parisian public, for when he drove to the American Club luncheon today Ambassador Herrick's limousine was forced to virtually crawl through the Boulevard Haussman, which was jammed with admirers.

As Lindbergh passed through the hotel lobbies he was besieged by women who broke through the lines and shook his hand and patted his shoulder.

Upon his entry to the banquet hall deafening cheers greeted him.

Makes Own Device To Pick Up Corn Stalks In Field

Lawrence County farmers have been busy the past few weeks cleaning off the corn stalks and ensilage from their farms pursuant to the requests of the Agricultural Department that they assist in destroying the corn borer. One farmer at least has devised a way of picking up the stray corn stalks that he is passing on to his fellow agriculturists.

The gentleman in question is Edwin C. Hoye who operates a farm on the Youngstown Road. His corn picking device is made with a broom handle into the end of which is driven several eight penny nails, sharpened, similar to the tool used by cleaners picking up waste paper. A block of wood attached to the end of the broomstick provides a base for the nails.

The sack used to hold the corn is equipped with a wire hoop at the top to hold it open, number nine wire being used to hold the top in position. The advantage of the equipment is that the work of picking up the loose corn stalks is expedited, and the picker can keep his eyes open for strays that might otherfise escape attention.

Order Petters To Stay Away From Town Cemeteries

That a cemetery might prove a popular place for petting parties seems rather far fetched. Yet we read that at Williamsport, Pa., Wildwood Cemetery, which overlooks the city, has become so popular a place for petting parties that the authorities have forbidden motorists to enter the place after dark. There, the petters appear impervious to the traditional ghosts and the authorities and since that edict as high as thirty arrests have been made in one night at that cemetery.

However, it is not necessary to go as far as Williamsport to find that petters are now beginning to look upon cemeteries as a good place to hold, their parties.

Its every now and then, and not so long ago at that, that the police authorities have been called to various cemeteries of this district to dislodge petters, who apparently are not the least concerned over their actions in desecrating the last resting place of so many people.

Attend Singing Festival Sunday

Many Welsh Of This City Hear Dr. T. H. Evans In Youngstown

A large delegation of Welsh singers attended the singing festival in Youngstown Sunday, May 22, which was held in the First Presbyterian church on Wick and Wood streets. Dr. T. Hopkin Evans of Liverpool, England, was the conductor. Two sessions were held, one at 2:30 in the afternoon and the other at 7:30 p. m. Long before the sessions were to open the church was overcrowded. Dr. Evans stated that the singing of the Welsh there was wonderful. Although they had to sing under his direction without practice, they did as good as any that he had ever heard. The applause of the audience lasted as long as 15 minutes after each song. The singers were thankful to Rowland W. Dunham, the organist who played in such manner that every note was as Dr. Evans desired it. The following Welsh people attended from New Castle: Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hopkins, Arlington avenue; Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Morris, South Jefferson street; Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel Williams, Lutton street; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Badger, Mill street; Mrs. John Evans, Mill street; William A. Johns, South Mercer street; Harry Ayers, Long avenue; John P. Thomas, Cleveland avenue; Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Johns, Mrs. Lewis Thomas and Master R. E. Johns of Park avenue; George Anthony and Mr. and Mrs. Evans.

As there was no morning service for the singers, many from New Castle went on to Warren, O., to visit former New Castle people. John Harvard, formerly of Euclid avenue, was the first one they met. He acted as their guide for the rest of the time there, showing them the different buildings in the city. Mr. and Mrs. William Clark, old residents on Reynolds street, this city, were next on the line of friends whom the local Welsh visited. They had dinner there, following which Mr. Clark brought them back to Youngstown.

Jack B. Bryan Wins Design Competition

Mother Will Visit Him Over Week End At Cleveland, Ohio

Many local people will be interested in learning of the success of Jack B. Bryan, son of Mrs. O. J. Shannon of Fairfield avenue, a student in the Cleveland School of Art, in winning first place in a design competition just closed and participated in by students of that institution. It is his first year in the school and his ability is shown in winning in a contest with students of more experience. He plans to complete his course in three more years. He stands at the head of his class at the present time. Only last week, he won great praise by a special cartoon in a New Philadelphia, Ohio, paper. Mrs. Shannon will spend the week end and Memorial Day at Cleveland with her son.

We can stand for almost anything from the headline writers, but think that "Crack China Troops" is a little too much.

Modern mothers wisely plan child meals for GROWTH

Letting children have the heavy meals planned for grown-ups is not the modern mother's way. For now it is known that the early years have special needs—and normal growth takes place only when certain important essentials are planned for, and provided.

A bowl of Mother's Oats with a cup of milk supplies nearly one-fourth of the growing child's requirement for the muscle-and-tissue building substance called protein.

Mother's Oats is approved by nutrition experts for another highly-important reason: it is a whole-grain food!

And how good it tastes! Always smooth and even-textured, always rich with the flavor only whole-grain foods have! For it is milled with painstaking care by millers who have had 50 years of experience.

Two kinds—the kind you have always known or Quick (cooks in 2½ to 5 minutes). Both with coupons interchangeable with Aunt Jemima coupons, good for genuine Tudor Silverware, or other handsome premiums.

Northwestern Is Seeking New Anthem

(International News Service)

EVANSTON, Ill., May 24.—Northwestern University is seeking a new anthem—something that will not stress athletics.

To the individual who writes the best "song poem" behind which Northwestern can rally, $200 is offered and an additional $300 will be handed the person who originates the best music for it.

The present songs, "Go-U-Northwestern" and "Rise Northwestern" are regarded as excellent for their purposes, but both stress football. The committee in charge believes that he anthem should stress no one branch of University life.

The General Alumni association is in charge of the contest.

"It is the hope of the committee" said the official alumni announcement, "that many song-lyrics will be submitted, for out of a great number one may prove to be just suited for the purpose and suggest to a composer a musical setting of the first order."

Now that bootleggers must pay their income taxes, large collections are expected from many of the law-abiding bootleggers wishing to keep on the good side of the federal government.

FOR Acid Stomach PHILLIPS' Milk of Magnesia

Instead of soda hereafter take a little "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" in water any time for indigestion or sour, acid, gassy stomach, and relief will come instantly.

Better Than Soda

For fifty years genuine "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" has been prescribed by physicians because it overcomes three times as much acid in the stomach as a saturated solution of bicarbonate of soda, leaving the stomach sweet and free from all gases. Besides, it neutralizes acid fermentations in the bowels and gently urges this souring waste from the system without purging. It is far more pleasant to take than soda.

Try a 25c Bottle

Insist upon "Phillips". Twenty-five cent and fifty-cent bottles, any drug store. "Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of The Charles H. Phillips Chemical Company and its predecessor, Charles H. Phillips, since 1875.
